Electrical Outlet Short Blamed For Blaze In Gardendale

The city's observance of Fire Prevention Week was marred today by a fire, apparently started from a short circuit in an electrical outlet, that swept through a Gardendale home causing extensive damage.

The walls, roof, siding and joists in the 1½-story residence of Mrs. Georgia Bachus, 418 Gardendale Ave., were burned in the blaze which broke out about 7:30 a. m.

Firemen said the fire was traced to the electrical outlet box at the base of the floor in the kitchen. An extension cord hooked into the box had been burned off, they said.

The fire burned up through the kitchen wall into the attic. Some of the ceiling and roof joists were burned through, firemen said, and holes had to be chopped in the front of the house to enable the firefighters to reach the blaze.

Mrs. Bachus told firemen she was awakened by noise, apparently the crackling of the flames, and thought her daughter had returned home. Her son and daughter had left two hours earlier for work.

She said she got up and found the kitchen ablaze and tried to throw water on the fire and then called the department.

There was no estimate of the loss.

Youth Escapes Injury In Bicycle-Auto Crash

Albert Clutter, 15, of 2136 Crawford Ave. escaped injury in a collision between his bicycle and an auto Wednesday at 7:24 p. m. on Pennsylvania Ave. at Central Ave., police said.

The bicycle was involved in a collision with a 1953 sedan driven by Richard D. Stafford, 54, of 436 Washington St., Newell, police said. The boy resides at the Crawford Ave. address with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. William White.

A collision on E. 3rd St. 75 feet east of Market St. Wednesday at 5:13 p. m. caused slight damage to a 1958 model panel truck driven by George Model, 46, of 1703 Holliday St., police said. The truck, halted for a traffic signal, was hit from the rear by a 1954 sedan driven by Harold W. Bryan, 39, of Substation, officers said. Bryan said his car drifted forward when he bent to brush away cigarette ashes that fell on his sleeve.

Military Chiefs Run Pakistan Government

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — A special government of civil servants ran Pakistan today under military chiefs and martial law regulations that extended the death penalty to numerous offenses.

President Iskander Mirza named the administrators Wednesday night, 24 hours after he abolished the government and annulled the constitution to prepare for a new constitution.

Final Suspect Gives Self Up In Theft Case

The last of three men charged with the $500 strongarm robbery of a Chester man July 18 surrendered himself to East Liverpool police this morning.

He is Bobby Higgins of Shadyside Ave., who probably will be arraigned this afternoon in Municipal Court in connection with the robbery of Clyde Finley of Box 81, Chester. He is scheduled for police questioning before the hearing.

Two others accused of participation in the robbery were held for the Grand Jury earlier this week, both under $500 bonds. Ray Junior Hess of Kountz Ave. pleaded guilty Monday. William Drumm Jr. of Chester R. D. was bound over after a lengthy preliminary hearing Tuesday. He pleaded not guilty.

At first, Higgins was believed living with some relatives in western Beaver County, but officers learned last night he had been seen in Wellsville. The widespread search through Wellsville for him last night might have prompted the suspect to surrender himself, Chief Americo Radeschi said.

Finley said he rode to a dirt track auto speedway near Glenmoor with Hess, Drumm and Higgins. He said two of the men then robbed him of the $500, which he had brought to East Liverpool, intending to buy a used car.

Board Gets Requests From Over World

The Columbiana County Election Board issued about 125 applications for absentee ballots for the Nov. 4 general election within the last 24 hours, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said today.

Requests have come from all over the world, including France England and the Pacific area, O'Hanlon said. Requests for ballots to be mailed to foreign countries have come from both civilians and service personnel and their dependents, he explained.

About 100 of the applications were forwarded Wednesday and another 25 went out in the first mail this morning, O'Hanlon said. The board already has issued 56 civilian absentee and disabled voters' ballots and another 64 under the Ohio "soldier voting law" for service personnel.

The deadline for issuance of the civilian ballots is Oct. 30 at 4 p. m. To be counted at the polls Nov. 4, they must be back at the board's office by noon Friday, Oct. 31. Soldiers ballots may be issued until noon Saturday, Nov. 1, and the service personnel may return the ballots or vote them in person at the board's office as late as noon on election day.

Trial Delayed In City Police Burglary Case

Hearing To Be Held Friday In Move To Drop 7 Indictments

The scheduled start of a burglary trial Monday for two former policemen and an ex-special officer has been postponed to enable Judge Raymond S. Buzzard to consider arguments in a move to dismiss seven police burglary indictments to be heard Friday.

County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw last month scheduled trial Monday for Ira Cunningham and Robert Carroll, former officers, and Jerome Raimond, onetime special officer, for the 1952 burglary of the Burbick Hardware Store.

The scheduling of the trials came on the heels of a new move by the three defendants and Louis Stuttler, another former officer, to quash the seven indictments handed down in 1956 following a police investigation.

Judge Buzzard is slated to hear arguments for the motion to dismiss the indictments tomorrow morning at Lisbon, and Wednesday he requested the trial slated Monday be postponed to allow him time to study the motions further.

Attorneys for the four defendants claim they were not brought to trial in the allotted three court terms following the indictments.

A hearing is scheduled before the 7th District Court of Appeals Oct. 22 on an appeal by Dallas Bishop, former special officer, of his May conviction of entering the Smith & Phillips Co. store in 1952.

Bishop at one time pleaded guilty to two indictments, but later changed his plea. Robert McBane, ex-officer pleaded guilty to eight of the charges, and has served as a state witness. Another officer was acquitted.

Highlandtown School Entered By Thieves

About $4.50 in change and $20 worth of candy was stolen by burglars at the Highlandtown School at Route 39 between Wellsville and Salineville sometime Wednesday night or early today, according to Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan.

Deputies said entry was gained by breaking a window in outside cafeteria door and reaching in and opening the lock. The intruders entered Principal Robert Carter's office, and ransacked the utility cabinet containing the candy.

The candy belongs to the Parent - Teacher Association which sells it at meetings and to pupils during the school week.

Missing Boy Still Feared River Victim

Dragging Continues Off Wellsville For Westgate Student, 14

Dragging operations continued today in the Ohio River along the Wellsville shore for a 14-year-old East Liverpool boy believed to have drowned when he fell from a makeshift raft about noon Wednesday.

Missing is David Casto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Casto of Lincoln Ave., student at Westgate School.

Authorities said David and four other youngsters, including his two brothers, were playing hookey from school. They walked toward Wellsville and wandered down to the river shore where they found the raft made of an old screen door with boards nailed crosswise.

The other boys, Allen Casto, 9, Gary Casto, 11, William Thomas, 14, and Charles Jones, 14, ran for help when David fell from the raft.

They told authorities David pushed the raft from shore. He jumped into the river to swim ashore after the raft tipped but couldn't make it. He then grabbed the raft and starting drifting down stream.

When the boys returned David's jacket was on the raft, but he had vanished.

Dragging operations started immediately. Police, firemen and members of the Wellsville Boat Club used pleasure craft. Hooks were sent to Wellsville by the East Liverpool fire department. The men quit the search about 7:30 when darkness interfered.

About four boats were back at the scene today. A crowd gathered along the bank at 3rd St. and Riverside Ave. to watch the search. The boy's parents kept vigil from a car.

Workers from Dam 8 at Newell are assisting in the dragging. Dam 9 at New Cumberland has been alerted to watch for a body.

Jefferson Will Try Wellsville Resident

Trial has been set for Oct. 22 in Jefferson County Common Pleas Court at Steubenville for a Wellsville man charged with armed robbery. Dates also have been set for the start of trials for other district men indicted by the September Grand Jury.

David Buckel is charged with the holdup July 8 of the P. & Z. Truck Stop near Port Homer. Buckel, 27, was arrested about a week later and identified by Mrs. Doris Jean Suttle, a waitress. His companion in the robbery never was caught.

Judge Arthur L. Hooper will hear the case. Ray Hooper of Hammondsville has pleaded guilty to breaking and entering and is being held in Jefferson County Jail at Steubenville pending testimony and a plea for mitigation before sentencing.

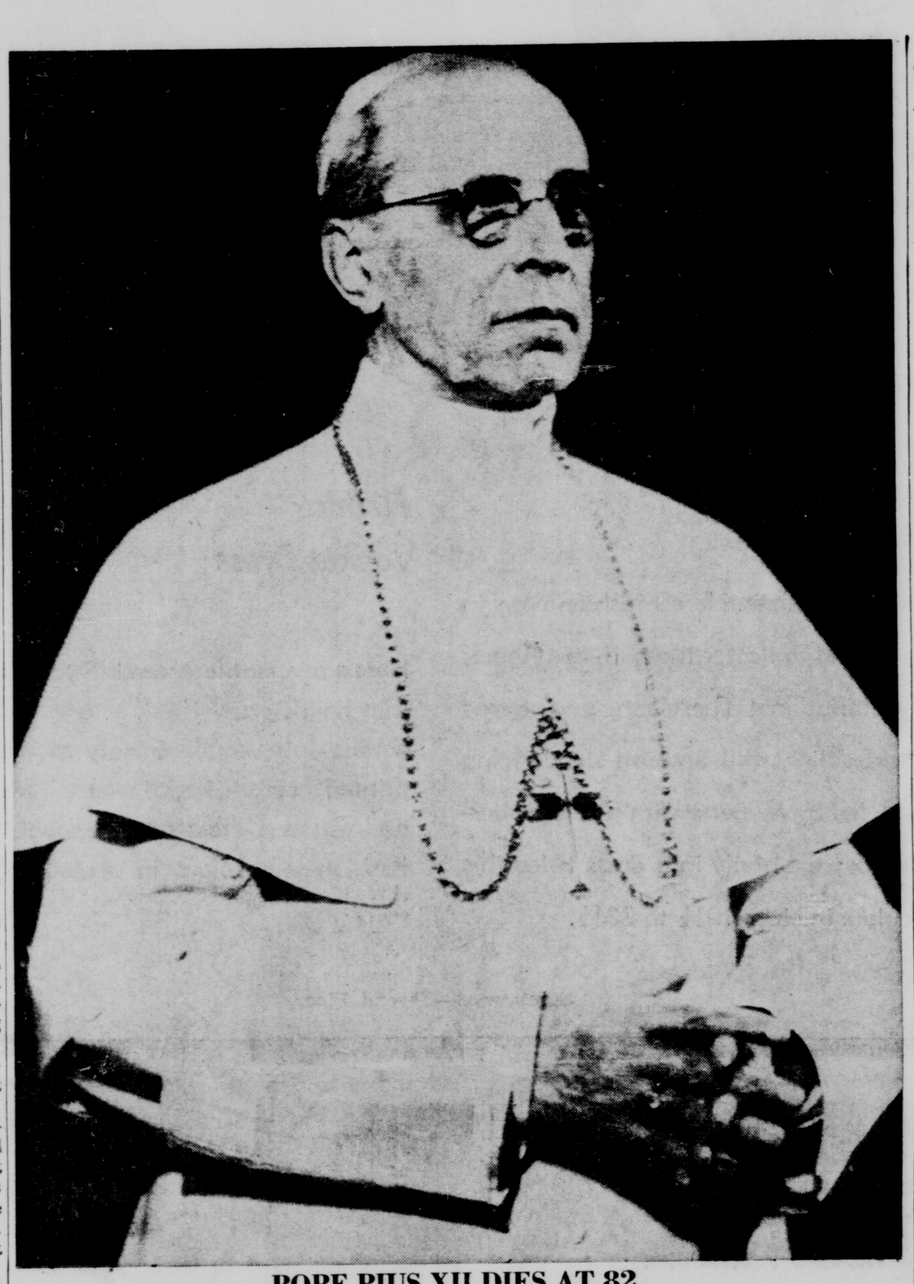
Howell Davis of Empire will receive a trial Tuesday on two counts of assault and battery.

Clarence (William) Martin of Empire will go to trial Oct. 22 on charges of exhibiting gambling devices and selling tickets for lottery. A Knox Township constable, he is charged with having the gambling devices in his service station.

Three defendants, Hubert (Sonny) Kline, 26, of East Liverpool, Howard Russell, 35, of Salineville R. D. 3 and Thurman Allgood of Irondale, will be tried jointly for breaking and entering. They were cited in the burglary of the Anthony Abrutz Mine on Brush Creek.

4 Lines On Pope Death

MOSCOW (AP) — A four-line dispatch today from Rome by the official Soviet news agency Tass was the first announcement in the Sovet Union of the death of Pope Pius XII.



POPE PIUS XII DIES AT 82

Nine Days Of Mourning Rites Begin

Cardinals Planning Funeral, Election Of His Successor

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP)—Pope Pius XII will return in death Friday to his native Rome, to lie in state at the Vatican and be buried in St. Peter's basilica.

His death early today, though anticipated for hours, sent a wave of shock around the world and brought widespread expressions of tribute from political and church leaders outside the Iron Curtain.

He was 82 and had served 19 years as the supreme leader of the Roman Catholic Church.

He will go back to that ancient city, borne by a motorcade along the Appian Way.

Before that, the church arranged a three-hour period for the body to lie in state today in the Hall of the Swiss in the Summer Palace here, where he was stricken and died.

This was the first stage in elaborate mourning rites lasting nine days. A week or so later the College of Cardinals will meet in secret to name a successor to a Pope who gave the church one of its most brilliant leaderships.

Benedetto Cardinal Aloisi-Masella was elected by the cardinals today as papal chamberlain to administer affairs of the church until a new pontiff is chosen.

Pius suffered a stroke Monday and another Wednesday.

For hours he hovered in death's agony. Then, while millions around the world prayed, he died at 3:52 a.m. (10:52 p.m., DST, Wednesday) in the papal summer residence in this hill town 18 miles south of Rome.

Eugenio Pacelli, the 261st pope, was the leader of the world's 500 million Catholics in one of the most burdensome times in the 2,000-year history of the church.

He wanted to be known as the "Pope of Peace" but when he was elected March 2, 1939, the

President, U.S. Leaders Pay Tribute To Late Pope

By The Associated Press

"His was a full life of devotion to God and service to his fellow men."

These words by President Eisenhower summed up tributes to the late Pope Pius XII by American leaders in government, religion and other fields.

News of the pontiff's death today brought an outpouring of statements expressing sorrow and lauding the late Pope as a "foe of tyranny . . . a man of profound vision . . . one of the foremost champions of human dignity, freedom and peace."

Joining Roman Catholics in mourning the Pope's death were spokesmen for Protestant and Jewish groups.

The National Catholic Welfare Conference noted that no other pope in history has had as many ties with the United States as Pope Pius XII. The conference recalled, among other things, that he was the first man to become pope who had ever visited the United States. This was in 1936, three years before he became head of the Roman Catholic Church. Also recalled were the pontiff's many audiences with Americans who visited the Vatican.

Eisenhower, informed of the Pope's death at Castel Gandolfo in Italy, said that "with men of good will everywhere, I mourn his passing."

The President said this of the Pope: "An informed and articulate foe of tyranny, he was a sympathetic friend and benefactor to those who were oppressed, and his helping hand was always quick to aid the unfortunate victims of war.

"Without fear or favor, he consistently championed the cause of a just peace among the nations of the earth. A man of profound vision, he kept pace with a rapidly changing universe, yet never lost sight of mankind's eternal destiny."

Vice President Nixon said he had never met a leader in any part of the world "who had a keener and broader understanding of the great issues of our time than he had." Nixon added that "the wisdom of his counsel will guide statesmen for years to come."

Lebanon Chief Is Forced Out After 14 Days

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Rising opposition from supporters of former President Camille Chamoun reportedly has forced the resignation of Premier Rashid Karami after only 14 days in office.

President Fuad Chehab was reported considering appointing a military government. Chehab headed the army until he became president in September.

Karami, a 37-year-old Sunni Moslem, was a leader of the armed rebellion last summer against Chamoun. After Karami became premier, the Christian Phalange, a militant party supporting Chamoun, launched strikes and barricades. Wednesday it became apparent Karami could not win a confidence vote in Parliament because of opposition from Chamoun supporters.

Stymied By Court Orders

School Segregation Heads Make Pleas To Individuals

By The Associated Press

School segregation leaders, stymied by federal court orders in Virginia and Arkansas, appealed to individuals today for support in operating private all-white schools.

One thing is clear: Any private school system will have to be operated without any kind of state support.

Not so clear is whether the federal government will help rebuild schools such as the bomb-ravaged high school in racially troubled Clinton, Tenn.

Virginia's plan for operating private white schools with public teachers was tossed out the window Wednesday by Federal Judge John Paul in Harrisonburg. He said the practice violates the U. S. Supreme Court's integration ruling.

Paul declined to rule an NAACP request to reopen Warren County High School and two Charlottesville schools because the state law which closed them is being tested in the Virginia Supreme Court.

After hearing the court order on publicly paid teachers, Atty. John S. Battle Jr. of Charlottesville indicated he would seek money from private sources to pay teachers and thus remove them from the court's prohibition. He said the money probably could be raised by tuition charges. "This is our only chance," he said.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas said he would start a nationwide appeal for contributions to help operate private, segregated schools. A federal judge has ruled in Arkansas that private classes cannot be held in public school buildings.

Conference Planned On Knowles Dispute

All 850 employes of the Edwin M. Knowles China Co. were idled today in what the company termed an "unauthorized, wildcat" walkout.

Pickets were thrown around the plant at the 11 p. m. shift change Wednesday and again at 7 this morning. Fellow members of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters refused to cross the lines, idling the plant's production.

A company spokesman said shortly before noon the firm had been unable to learn the exact cause of the dispute, which apparently started with kilnhands. However, management was scheduled to meet this afternoon at 1:30 with E. L. Wheatley, president, and other IBOP officials in an attempt to work out a settlement.

Reports circulating among the Knowles employes said the dispute centered around a question over the seniority rights of an employe who was discharged and later rehired.

IBOP officials said they have "high hopes" the dispute can be settled in the meeting this afternoon at the U. S. Potters Association offices. The Brotherhood will be represented by its international officers and the plantwide committee from the Knowles firm.

The company said it did not succeed in getting in contact with Wheatley until about 11 a. m., so did not have particulars on the reasons for the walkout.

A check showed the dispute did not affect any other plants on the West Virginia side.

News of the pontiff's death today brought an outpouring of statements expressing sorrow and lauding the late Pope as a "foe of tyranny . . . a man of profound vision . . . one of the foremost champions of human dignity, freedom and peace."

Joining Roman Catholics in mourning the Pope's death were spokesmen for Protestant and Jewish groups.

The National Catholic Welfare Conference noted that no other pope in history has had as many ties with the United States as Pope Pius XII. The conference recalled, among other things, that he was the first man to become pope who had ever visited the United States. This was in 1936, three years before he became head of the Roman Catholic Church. Also recalled were the pontiff's many audiences with Americans who visited the Vatican.

Eisenhower, informed of the Pope's death at Castel Gandolfo in Italy, said that "with men of good will everywhere, I mourn his passing."

The President said this of the Pope: "An informed and articulate foe of tyranny, he was a sympathetic friend and benefactor to those who were oppressed, and his helping hand was always quick to aid the unfortunate victims of war.

"Without fear or favor, he consistently championed the cause of a just peace among the nations of the earth. A man of profound vision, he kept pace with a rapidly changing universe, yet never lost sight of mankind's eternal destiny."

Vice President Nixon said he had never met a leader in any part of the world "who had a keener and broader understanding of the great issues of our time than he had." Nixon added that "the wisdom of his counsel will guide statesmen for years to come."

Lebanon Chief Is Forced Out After 14 Days

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Rising opposition from supporters of former President Camille Chamoun reportedly has forced the resignation of Premier Rashid Karami after only 14 days in office.

President Fuad Chehab was reported considering appointing a military government. Chehab headed the army until he became president in September.

Karami, a 37-year-old Sunni Moslem, was a leader of the armed rebellion last summer against Chamoun. After Karami became premier, the Christian Phalange, a militant party supporting Chamoun, launched strikes and barricades. Wednesday it became apparent Karami could not win a confidence vote in Parliament because of opposition from Chamoun supporters.

Stymied By Court Orders

School Segregation Heads Make Pleas To Individuals

By The Associated Press

School segregation leaders, stymied by federal court orders in Virginia and Arkansas, appealed to individuals today for support in operating private all-white schools.

One thing is clear: Any private school system will have to be operated without any kind of state support.

Not so clear is whether the federal government will help rebuild schools such as the bomb-ravaged high school in racially troubled Clinton, Tenn.

Virginia's plan for operating private white schools with public teachers was tossed out the window Wednesday by Federal Judge John Paul in Harrisonburg. He said the practice violates the U. S. Supreme Court's integration ruling.

Paul declined to rule an NAACP request to reopen Warren County High School and two Charlottesville schools because the state law which closed them is being tested in the Virginia Supreme Court.

After hearing the court order on publicly paid teachers, Atty. John S. Battle Jr. of Charlottesville indicated he would seek money from private sources to pay teachers and thus remove them from the court's prohibition. He said the money probably could be raised by tuition charges. "This is our only chance," he said.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas said he would start a nationwide appeal for contributions to help operate private, segregated schools. A federal judge has ruled in Arkansas that private classes cannot be held in public school buildings.

Displays Copies Of Contracts

DiSalle Documents Claim O'Neill Got Presser's Aid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Democrat Michael V. DiSalle today documented his claim that GOP Gov. C. William O'Neill accepted "Material assistance" from Ohio Teamsters President William Presser in the 1956 campaign for governor.

DiSalle, who lost to O'Neill two years ago, displayed copies of contracts for campaign broadcasts on behalf of a committee composed of Presser, William Finnegan, executive secretary of the Cleveland Federation of Labor, and Robert A. Goulder of the Goulder Advertising Agency in Cleveland.

The committee was known as the O'Neill for Governor and Bender for Senator Committee. George A. Bender was a candidate for U. S. senator.

DiSalle, at an early morning news conference, listed radio and television contracts totaling about $3,000 that he said the committee purchased.

A copy of a contract for broadcasts over station WAKR in Akron said the time would be used by committee members for Bender and O'Neill and listed their officers as Presser, Finnegan and Goulder. Cost of the broadcast was $420.

A contract with WSPD in Toledo, by the same committee, said the broadcast time would be used by the Ohio Conference of Teamsters. Presser was listed as the Teamster president. Another contract with WSPD said the broadcast was for the Teamsters and the O'Neill-Bender committee. Cost of the broadcasts was $500.

DiSalle pointed out that the National Broadcasting Corp. code of conduct says that organizations purchasing broadcast time in support of a political candidate must give assurance that the candidate does not object to receiving support from the purchaser.

"An examination of the record discloses that no such objection was ever filed by the candidate or his manager," DiSalle said. He explained that he referred to O'Neill.

"The record clearly indicates that no renunciation of corruption or corrupt labor leaders was expressed by my opponent during his six years as attorney general and 20 months as governor until Aug. 31, 1958, after William Presser had been again subpenaed for testimony by the McClellan Committee."

DiSalle said O'Neill accepted the support of Presser and his associates in 1956 after Presser claimed protection of the fifth amendment during a Congressional subcommittee hearing in Cleveland two years earlier. Presser recently used the fifth amendment in refusing to answer questions by the McClellan Committee in Washington investigating labor racketeering.

The Vacant Throne Of St. Peter

The spiritual power of Pope Pius XII touched all the inhabitants of the earth, directly or indirectly.

No man ever used the throne of St. Peter to greater purpose and avail than Eugenio Pacelli. The goodness of his life and the brilliance of his mind were reflected through the Vatican in all the affairs of mankind.

Even had he not been chosen to head the hierarchy of the Roman Catholic Church, he still would have used his surpassing wisdom and energy to better the lot of mankind. That was his nature.

HE BROUGHT years of thorough preparation to the leadership of the Roman Catholic Church when the duty devolved upon him in 1939. He had seen and studied the world of his era in many positions of responsibility.

His wide and understanding acquaintanceship with people of all faiths in all positions of life had given him an outstanding background in the classic catholic concept which was to be his untiring mission as the leader of Roman Catholicism.

He was to be challenged harshly within months after his elevation to popehood by the outbreak of a terrible war that in its nature was a renunciation of everything he symbolized. Millions of his spiritual followers and hundreds of millions of his brothers in mankind were to be tested, first in war, then in the chaos that follows war, for their faith in God and in one another.

Pope Pius XII could not have acquitted himself of his charge without exalted faith that drove him to tireless service in behalf of all mankind. He became the leader of anti-Communism in the Western World at a time when lesser men were still unable to grasp the implications of the worship of the doctrine of materialism. His personal example was to have a powerful influence over temporal leaders as well as spiritual leaders.

AT THE AGE of 82, his health had diminished to the point where he was in continuous disagreement with his doctors over the expenditure of his failing strength. But it was characteristic of this unselfish man who never had put self above service that he insisted to the last on performing the duties of his office to the limit of his energy.

It had been his lifelong mission to show his faith by helping mankind. He worked at it until his mission was finished; until there was nothing more Eugenio Pacelli could do to grace the throne of St. Peter.

Stewart To U.S. Supreme Court

The White House decision to send Ohio's Potter Stewart to the U.S. Supreme Court to replace retiring Justice Burton cannot be second-guessed. This was a case of a high office seeking a high-type man and finding him in the right place at the right time.

Judge Stewart, who has served with distinction on the U.S. Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals, was an obvious choice to replace Justice Burton when and if he retired. Not only did he possess brilliant qualifications as a jurist and a citizen, but he possessed all the required qualifications for what necessarily is a political appointment.

He was entirely acceptable to Sen. Bricker, who had the traditional right to pass on an Ohio appointee; Sen. Bricker personally had called attention to his fellow Ohioan as a likely choice for a Supreme Court appointment. It is evident now that Justice Burton's retirement was announced belately to give the White House a chance to make certain Judge Stewart was as well suited to be his successor as Sen. Bricker had assured the Eisenhower administration he would be.

The young judge — he is 43 years old — checked out on all counts. It is a happy choice — happy for Ohio, for the nation and for the Supreme Court of the United States, which is going to be graced with a young associate who has made a habit of carrying out his responsibilities "cum laude" — with praise. It is particularly gratifying to Judge Stewart's father, James Garfield Stewart, himself a member of the Supreme Court of Ohio.

What's Chinese For 'Sidewinder'?

While Washington continues to crack its official knuckles over Red China's decision to lay off any further bombardment of Quemoy at this time and to hope that Peiping may finally have worked up an appetite for peace, there is a further fascinating possibility to think about.

Red China's apparent change of heart may not have been a change of heart but a change of mind dictated by a gadget that weighs 155 pounds and bears the improbable name of "Sidewinder," named after a rattlesnake.

It is a possibility worth thinking about, because it represents a neglected aspect of what critics of John Foster Dulles like to call his "brinksmanship."

Whereas the ordinary hopeful Henry in the United States keeps hoping the world may develop a yearning for peace, practitioners of brinksmanship see no hope for Henry.

They believe there always will be a bothersome percentage of this world that will dismiss peace as the hallucination by which weaklings are softened up for the kill.

When Secretary of State Dulles practices brinksmanship, he is trying to beat the stronglings at their own game. Having estimated the risks and decided the advantages lie with him, he makes a point of proving to them that the United States will not be the first to back away from the brink of war.

That is where the 155-pound gadget called "Sidewinder" enters the picture.

It is a rocket launched from an airplane to seek down and destroy another airplane in the air — a fatalistic mission it carries out by means of a guidance system based on infrared rays.

This system is responsive to the heat generated by the target plane. Once "Sidewinder" has been headed in the right direction, it is sure death. At a speed of some 1,900 miles an hour, it is a bolt from the blue—so deadly the Red Chinese complained about unfair competition — so conclusive that National Chinese pilots flying relatively slow U.S. jets practically chased Red China's Russian-built planes out of the air over the Quemoy Straits.

In due time, Red Chinese aviators may have some counterpart of one of the most fearful weapons of all time. Suffice it to say that if they had such a thing now there would be no talk of a cease-fire agreement in Quemoy Straits.

Further suffice it to say that when cease-fire agreements are talked about they are more likely to be the result of a successful act of brinksmanship than statesmanship, under today's foreseeable circumstances.

If Red China has decided that Quemoy, Matsu and other assorted real estate are not worth a war, the hero of the showdown may be a blunt instrument weighing 155 pounds named for a rattlesnake.

The Once Over

In Penn Yan, N.Y., a man who decided to keep off highways over the weekend and play safe in a hammock was hit by an auto and knocked down an embankment. There is no use trying to elude automobiles.

A hammock seemed a fair protection against highway perils, provided the hammock was far from the road and behind barricades. But it is now clear that a hammock anywhere near a highway should have bumpers front and rear.

In fact, there should be a few signs on the premises such as "HAMMOCK AHEAD. GO SLOW," "REDUCE SPEED. MAN RESTING" and "ENTERING HAMMOCK ZONE."
without a hand signal system, so a high-riding motorist would know whether our hammock had come to a full stop.

GET HIT WHILE SWINGING in a hammock these days and the driver will probably leap out crying "Why don't you look where you're going?" and "Your redlight wasn't on."

There's a rumor that some auto drivers are pretty indignant over the auto-hammock crash and are demanding tighter laws governing hammock occupants.

Their general feeling is that the hammock ran into the auto. Hammock addicts must be prepared for this sort of thing. It might be a good idea if they carried hammock licenses.

SO HOW TO SPEND a weekend in safety? An old well has been recommended, but it had better be an extra deep one, and if some drivers could find a well to hit they would do it.

How about a treetop? No. There are too many drivers who like to fly through them. This is true of telegraph poles.

By H. I. Phillips

Our grandpappy used to be a flagpole sitter and was pretty secure up there, but a flagpole is apt to be sideswiped any time.

An old-fashioned rocker behind a boulder on an abandoned farm offers some protection from weekend motorists. Buy you'd better be sure the rocker has a "fast pickup."

RED CHINA MAY, with Russian help, put a sputnik into air. Will this threaten the Free World with the first chain of chop suey restaurants along the Milky Way? Here's hoping they don't send up a dog that barks in all Chinese dialects.

Outrunning His Interference

Reds In U.S. Plan New Activity

By Victor Riesel

A lively and wealthy "corpse," indeed, is the revived Communist Party of America — which is now under orders to move many of its "sleepers" from the "underground" into the open in unions and cultural outfits.

Victor Riesel

Some of its best brains have applied for passports and soon will be heading for Moscow. After a series of conferences there, you can expect them to return for the launching of a broad counter - offensive along "popular - front" lines. They hope they can pick up some of the strength they had in the Thirties using this tactic.

Among those going are George Morris, labor editor of "The "Worker," long believed to have powerful influence in Communist labor ranks; Alexander Trachtenberg, the Party's book publishing and distribution expert; V. J. Jerome, the "cultural" commisar of the Thirties, who helped direct the invasion of Hollywood; Paul Novick and James Jackson, Communist functionaires; and the brilliant ex-labor lawyer, John Abt. who has been the Communist Party attorney.

PASSPORTS WILL probably be granted them shortly. The fellows traveling are virtually packed now ready for flight to Moscow later in October. Most of them will be briefed — and do some briefing in return — right through the first of the year.

Their plans call for staying on for the 21st Congress of the Russian Communist Party — already being discussed in Party circles as "cataclysmic." During its sessions, Premier Khrushchev is expected to purge all remaining opposition in all Communist Parties across the world.

Informed circles believe that whoever makes up the American fraternal observers will then speed back to the U. S. with strategy for the great revival.

There is not insignificant section of observers who believe that the Party is dead and that no amount of briefing can revive it. To these observers, the point must be made that the Communist Party has spent hundreds of thousands of dollars in the past eight years defending its legality. This it has done successfully.

The law banning the Party and demanding that its members register, as foreign agents do, was first passed in 1950. This law called for hearings before the Subversive Activities Control Board. This five - man panel in a 14-months hearing ruled that the Party was subversive and, therefore, illegal.

THE COMMUNIST Party, counselled by John Abt, then took the case to the Supreme Court. The high bench ruled that it would not hear the case because it believed that some of the evidence was tainted. This referred to the long siege on the witness chair of the "quixotic" Harvey Matusow, now in Federal jail.

The Subversive Activities Control Board started all over again. Finally last August, it reiterated its original findings. The Communist Party objected. The Board chairman, Francis Cherry, rejected the appeal. The Communist Party then demanded that the entire five-man board sit and decide. This will happen on October 15.

Then the Communists can carry their appeal to the District Court of Appeals in Washington, D. C., and finally to the Supreme Court. This is expected to take another two years. Thus it will have taken a decade and hundreds of thousands of dollars to decide if the Party adheres to Mowcow. Talk about due process!

There apparently are hundreds of thousands of additional dollars in Party tin boxes. The Communists plan to turn their daily newspaper into a daily again, although they still owe the Treasury Dept. some money. They plan to revive their national labor committee.

IT IS A grim fact that the party is strong in key transportation and industrial centers. It has influential cadres on the Atlantic and Pacific waterfronts. It has infiltrated the trucking field.

It is active, through some of its toughest cadres, in some meat packing centers — despite a little publicized fight now being directed at the leftwingers by Ralph Helstein, president of the Packinghouse Workers Union.

In the past year, the Party concentrated on the electronic industry. And now there are reports that it will seek to infiltrate the chemical labs and producing units.

They have stripped the Party down to the hard corps. This will be the revival of their fittest.

Powers In Congress

By Raymond Moley

LOS ANGELES

To anticipate the general tone of legislation in the next Congress, a matter which concerns all of us, it is more important to examine the personal composition of the various committees than to count overall Democratic and Republican members.

Since a committee chairman has immense power in his committee and on the floor, in bills that are in the jurisdiction of his committee, it is very important to note who he may be.

Committee power is especially notable in the House. Very little is decided on the floor. Power lies with those who decide what gets to the floor.

THE COMMENTS THAT follow are made on the assumption that both houses will be Democratic in the 86th Congress, a prediction which no realistic Republican will publicly deny. In naming the probable chairmen of the important committees, I indicate my estimate of their ideological slant — whether conservative, moderate, or liberal.

The word "liberal" is used in the sense in which these people know themselves. They generally vote for greater extension of Federal authority, for more spending, for more federal regulation of private business, and for the enlargement of government-in-business.

This is, of course, not liberal in the true, historical sense. But since they have stolen the word, I use it to identify them.

In the Senate, the important, decisive committees are: agriculture, appropriations, armed services, banking and currency, finance, foreign relations, government operations, interior and insular affairs, judiciary and labor.

In the Senate Committee on Agriculture, the chairman — barring death or resignation — will be Ellender of Louisiana. He is a conservative Democrat. There is likely to be little change in the personnel of that committee as a result of the election.

IN APPROPRIATIONS, it is Hayden of Arizona, veteran of around four score. Pretty liberal in spending. Moderate in other issues.

Armed Services has Russell of Georgia, basically conservative in all ways. Very able in military matters. Not much change in committee. Banking and currency has Fulbright of Arkansas, moderately liberal. Not much change in committee.

In finance there is Byrd of Virginia. Enough said. But most of his Democratic colleagues are liberal, some extreme. Republican members are solid folk, like Byrd.

Foreign Relations is headed by Green, four score and 10. Fulbright is heir-apparent. Committee mostly strongly internationalist. Government Operations: McClellan, conservative. Membership strongly conservative and fairly able.

Interior is headed by Murray of Montana. Committee, on both sides of political fence and with one exception from reclamation states, favors big spending for federal projects.

Judiciary is very important Eastland is very conservative; his committee moderate. Labor: Hill of Alabama, very liberal. Committee mostly the same.

IN THE HOUSE, the important committees are agriculture, appropriations, armed services, banking and currency, interior, judiciary, labor, and, above all, the rules committee.

The House Agriculture Committee chairman will be Cooley of North Carolina, who votes generally moderately conservative. Appropriations is headed by Cannon of Missouri, fairly liberal. Armed Services, Vinson of Georgia — respected and able, with conservative voting record.

Banking and Currency, Spence of Kentucky, very liberal. Education and Labor, Barden of North Carolina, conservative. Powell of New York ranks, so ask many happy returns for Barden. Government Operations: Dawson of Illinois, very liberal. Interior, Aspinall of Colorado, liberal spender. Most of committee from beneficiary states, but some solid on spending and other matters.

Judiciary: Celler of New York, very liberal. Rules, from a conservative standpoint the brightest spot in the House. Smith of Virginia, chairman, speaks for himself. But he will lose two solid conservatives.

Thus, assured re-elections over the years, with seniority promotions, make the committees more conservative than the generality of the membership of the houses. Here will be some element of cheer for conservatives as liberal victories roll in at election time.

Age Of Hypocrisy

By David Lawrence

'Liberals' Fail To Back 'Work' Laws

WASHINGTON—

Some day the historians may describe the 1950's as "The Age Of Hypocrisy." At a time when the so-called "liberals" have been shouting loudly that "all men are equal" and that the liberty of an individual and his "freedom of choice" must not be restrained or restricted, the worker is being compelled in millions of cases to accept a system of private slavery, conducted by labor - union masters, as the price of a job in free America.

David Lawrence

The denunciation of the "right to work" laws that have been adopted by many states is an example of how the principle of freedom to work, as guaranteed by the Constitution itself, is being flagrantly disregarded.

Not a single one of the so-called "liberals" of prominence has ventured to make a militant fight for the "right to work" laws which are an issue in the elections this year in several states, particularly California.

YET THE SUPREME Court of the United States, in its historic 1954 decision against the continuance of racial segregation in the public schools of the District of Columbia, said:

"Although the court has not assumed to define 'liberty' with any great precision, that term is not confined to mere freedom from bodily restraint. Liberty under law extends to the full range of conduct which the individual is free to pursue, and it cannot be restricted except for a proper governmental objective."

This definition of "liberty" would appear to invalidate the provision which — unless state laws forbid it — permits employers and unions to agree on a private contract that compels a worker to join a union within 30 days after he is hired or lose his job. State laws barring compulsory unionization were upheld in 1949 by the Supreme Court, but there has been no decision against the federal statute which legalizes involuntary membership in labor unions in most of the states of the union today.

The Department of Justice has no unit or division that devotes itself wholly to the "civil rights" of the workers of the United States, and hence there has been no effort to get the federal courts to issue injunctions against employers and unions who conspire together under a plainly unconstitutional federal law to compel citizens to give up their conscientious beliefs and join an organization they don't want to join.

The unwilling "member" is also deprived of his property in violation of the "due process" amendment of the Constitution, because he is forced against his will to pay dues to an organization he does not care to join.

THE "RIGHT TO work" doctrine is founded on the words of the Declaration of Independence and is imbedded in the Bill of Rights of the Constitution, but the politicians on the so-called "liberal" side are apparently afraid of the labor-union bosses, some of whom have been using money obtained from the workers to buy the services of hundreds of precinct agents to drag workers and their wives to the polls to vote for candidates being supported by the labor-union bosses.

Who is making the fight against this kind of illiberalism? Certainly not the spurious "liberals" who are trying to defeat a true liberal like Senator Knowland of California when he stands up for the right of every man, irrespective of color or creed, to get and keep a job without paying tribute to a union.

Nor have the members of the Eisenhower administration been consistent in claiming that this issue is a "state matter" and hence not one calling for presidential or vice-presidential advice to the people.

For, while the president issued a direct appeal to voters in Virginia and Arkansas just before local referendums dealing with school issues were held, there has been a noticeable unwillingness on the part of administration spokesmen to tell the people of California and other states, where the "right to work" principle is at stake, that they ought to uphold the "law of the land."

THE SENATE Rackets Committee in recent months has exposed monopoly, illegal pressure, fraudulent use of dues money and criminal activity in the control and management of certain big labor unions.

Yet the last Congress, most of whose members are this autumn up for re-election, failed to insure by the passage of legislation the right of American citizens to "life, liberty, and property," as guaranteed to them by the Constitution.

One would think that, in the face of such hypocrisy, the American people would be ready to repudiate the illiberals, but the truth is that the channels of public opinion have been to a large extent adulterated by false cries that the "right to work" laws are simply a device to destroy legitimately operated labor unions.

The voters generally have been misinformed on this issue. The fact that such a misrepresentation can be given wide currency is proof of the hyprocrisy of the age — that the preservation of all the liberties of the individual citizen are not really the concern of many articulate persons who call themselves "liberals."

Away Out Yonder

By Truman Twill

One day soon, the first human being will be rocketed into outer space, and in all probability that will be the living end of humanity's first space pioneer. Like the little Russian dog, he will have been an interesting experiment in finding a path to the Great Beyond and back.

In the meantime, many human beings have been undergoing tests to see what it's going to be like . . . out yonder. They have been encased in mockup rockets for varying periods of time in pseudo-scientific experiments to study their reactions.

Perhaps the most successful venture in getting lost up to now has been the 60-day submersion of a submarine crew, an experience not unlike being encased in a giant rocket and put out of touch with the world for a couple of months. If the crew members did not muse about the possibilities of time inversion, such as the phenomenon that might make a rocketeer coming back from Outer Space become his own grandpa, they were a grossly unimaginative bunch.

When scientific escapism — and that is what is involved in all this — finally has worked out its techniques, there will be many new wrinkles in an old desire.

Men have been running away to mountain-tops, remote valleys, uninhabited islands and the lonely oceans for centuries. Today, they are dreaming of soaring into Outer Space, or holing up in the Briny Deep. It's the same old urge to get away from it all, but this time it has the sanction of Science.

There will come a time when licensed dispatchers will rocket would - be escapists into Outer Space, or bottle them up for fixed periods in the Briny Deep, just as travel agents now send them off to distant lands where water supplies are dubious and plumbing has not been rationalized.

For a fee, it will be possible to float among the stars or blow bubbles on the bottom of the ocean during hay fever system — as possible as it is now to be whisked off to another continent or get lost in the lakelands of Minnesota and Canada.

Escapism is going to be a bigger thing than it ever was before. If we don't like it here, we can go anywhere we'd like to be — the other side of the world, the bottom of the ocean, or out yonder among the shooting stars.

Next Move Up To Red China, U.S. Declares

Speculates It May Be Made On Friday In Warsaw Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—The next move toward ending the Formosa crisis is up to Communist China, U.S. officials said today.

They speculated that it may be made Friday when Red Ambassador Wang Ping-nan meets again with U.S. envoy Jacob Beam at Warsaw.

It will be their first meeting since last Saturday—one day before Red China unexpectedly announced it was halting for one week its artillery bombardment of the Formosa Strait area.

State Department authorities said that they thought the United States and Nationalist China had done about everything possible to encourage the Chinese Reds to extend their cease-fire into an indefinite, or perhaps permanent, suspension of hostilities.

The United States made its move Wednesday with an announcement that since the Communists had stopped attacking Quemoy Island, the United States had halted its warship escorts of Nationalist supply vessels. Suspension of the escort operation was one of the Communist conditions for maintaining the temporary truce.

The State Department coupled its announcement with a warning, saying: "If the Chinese Communist attacks are resumed, then, under the order, United States escort activity will be resumed forthwith to the extent necessary."

The Chinese Nationalists for their part were holding off their fire against Communist mainland positions.

Clerk Of Unity Local Commended By State

LISBON — A report from the state examiner's office filed with Prosecutor G. William Brokaw commends Clerk Homer H. Dorr of Kensington for his work as clerk of the United Local Board of Education for the past 24 years.

In a report on examination of records United Local board records from Feb. 29, 1956 to Aug. 22, 1958, the examiner said, "The state examiner's office would publicly like to express personal best wishes to Mr. Dorr as all his records were neatly kept, always found to be correct and he was very co - operative at all times. I am sure the community and especially the school district appreciated his dedicated and devoted services over these many years."

The report showed that United Local School District is $17,627.45 overdrawn in its general fund, but with balances in other funds the district is not overdrawn at the depository.

A finding of $381, was returned against W. E. Hiscox of Lisbon for storm doors and windows for the home owned by the board and given rent free to the custodian, R. E. Ernst. The examiner said that house is not exclusively used for school purposes and board had no authorization to supply windows and doors.

The Industry Township Board of Supervisors Monday night appointed Ed White to contact the Westinghouse Corp. in Beaver on the possibility of obtaining ashes during the winter for the streets in Industry Township.

Guy Lang, secretary, will contact the Duquesne Light Co. for old light poles to be used as guard rails on the River Rd.

James McGhee reported on a meeting of the Industry Planning Commission with the Midland and Ohio Township Commissions. The supervisors approved these meetings and recommended that they continue. The commission was requested by the board to assign street numbers to homes in the remainder of the township.

A petition from residents asked the board to take over Torcasso Rd. as a township road. The supervisors will inspect the road on their semi-annual tour.

The next meeting Nov. 3 will be in the Industry School.

Gas Firm Seeks Boost For Wholesale Rates

The Manufacturers Light & Heat Co. today asked the Federal Power Commission for a $1,336,000 annual wholesale rate increase from 25 gas companies doing business in Pennsylvania, Ohio, New York, New Jersey and Maryland.

The request is designed to pass on to wholesale customers their proportion of rate increases by four of Manufacturers' gas suppliers, according to W. T. McIntyre, local manager.

Manufacturers' future gas costs will be raised some $1,914,000 a year as a result of rate increases proposed by three suppliers — United Fuel Gas Co., Atlantic Seaboard Corp. and Champlin Oil and Refining Co. In addition, Manufacturers has been paying a fourth supplier — Texas Eastern Transmission Corp. — an increase amounting to $1,262.000 a year since Nov. 10, 1957.

Manufacturers' present wholesale rates are based on cost levels for the year ending Oct. 31, 1956. The proposed rates are based on operations for the 12 months ending June 30, 1958. Manufacturers asked the rates become effective Nov. 9, 1958.

Hundreds Of Chinese Sleep In Holes, Fearing Red Fire

NANSAN, Quemoy (AP)—Hundreds of civilians in this Chinese Nationalist village scarcely five miles from Communist territory slept Wednesday night in waterlogged holes in the ground.

They plan to do the same again tonight despite the Communists' cease-fire in the Formosa Strait.

The islanders fear the Reds may resume shelling at any time. And few have homes left after the 44-day bombardment of Quemoy which ended at midnight Sunday.

The situation remained quiet although the Nationalist Defense Ministry said the Communists were strengthening their fortifications in the Quemoy area.

A Peiping radio broadcast heard in Tokyó said Communist gunners at artillery positions surrounding Quemoy on three sides "are standing at alert." It indicated they could resume firing at a moment's notice.

("During the past three days over 10 military transport vessels and escorting warships that dared not sail in the Bay of Quemoy for about a month docked at the wharf every day and unloaded large quantities of supplies to the island," the broadcast said tauntingly.)

There was no sign by midmorning of new Nationalist supply operations. Several amphibious vehicles laden with supplies were dispatched during the night from Quemoy to nearby Little Quemoy.

The U.S. State Department announced in Washington that American warships had stopped escorting Nationalist supply convoys to Quemoy but would start again if the Red firing resumed. Radio has promised a cease-fire only until Sunday midnight.

Democrats See 150 At Luncheon To Honor DiSalle

An estimated 150 are expected to attend the luncheon Saturday noon in the Travelers Hotel in honor of Michael V. DiSalle, Democratic candidate for governor.

The event is being sponsored jointly by the local Democratic Club and the Columbiana County Democratic Executive and Central Committees.

Don Gosney, county chairman, will be master of ceremonies, and the reception committee includes Donal Burcham, Demar Dyke and James Flasco, according to Larry Finlay, president.

1959 Car On Display

Dodge's Front And Rear Restyled

A dart look creating a new and distinctive exterior design features the 1959 Dodge, such as this Custom Royal four-door Lancer, now on display at Mackall Motors, Inc. 660 Walnut St.

Swivel-type front seats, an instrument panel concentrated more closely around the steering wheel, plus pushbutton control of virtually all driver operations, head the list of 1959 advancements inside the new cars.

Roadability of the 1959 Dodge has been improved through advances in the Torsion-Aire suspension system, coupled with optional rear-end "Level-Flite" suspension.

Additional new features include: (1) push-button controls for the heater and air-conditioner, (2) a safety speedometer which changes color as speed increases, (3) an electronic rear-view mirror that automatically cuts glare from overtaking headlights, (4) an outside rear-view mirror that can be controlled from inside, (5) an automatic headlight dimmer, and (6) a higher steering wheel that is slightly flattened at the top, affording better road vision and making it easier for the driver to get in and out.

Colors and color-combinations available on the new vehicles will feature more light hues, following both style and safety trends.

Four new engines are offered on the various Dodge models—the less expensive Coronet series, the moderately priced Royal series, and the luxurious Custom Royals.

The two swivel seats swing out a full 40 degrees on rollers. They return to place and automatically lock into the forward position.

Two nacelle-styled chrome mountings on the grille house the parking lights. Twin taillights below each rear fin simulate jet-tube design while chrome moldings are cut "on the bias" to permit visibility from the side as well as the rear for increased safety.

The tips of the front bumper curve upward and wrap around the fender, giving an additional appearance of sleekness and forward motion.

The push-button transmission is located at the driver's left—away from accidental contact by other front-seat passengers.

Heater, cigarette lighter, headlights and windshield wiper pushbuttons are close to the driver and easy to operate.

Josephine Nancy DeSarro Becomes G. C. Hobbs' Bride

An Alfred Angela creation was worn by Miss Josephine Nancy DeSarro of Wellsville for her marriage to Gayle C. Hobbs of Chester on Saturday, Sept. 13, at 10 o'clock in the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church at Wellsville.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Fr. William Lawler before the altar decorated with ferns and lilies. Mrs. Peggy Reilly, organist, played the nuptial music and sang "Ave Maria" and "On This Day, Oh, Beautiful Mother" as the bride placed a bouquet before the statue of the Blessed Mother.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John DeSarro, 413 13th St., Wellsville, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus A. Hobbs, 315 3rd St., Chester.

She wore a floor-length gown of imported Chantilly lace combined with nylon tulle.

The molded lace bodice featured a portrait neckline and long fitted sleeves. The bouffant skirt was of nylon tiers edged with scalloped lace which extended into a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil had a frothy mist of illusion and was attached to a lace train with seed pearls and sequins and a teardrop pearl at the forehead.

Her jewelry was drop pearl earrings and a white pearl ring, gifts of the bridegroom. She carried white pearl rosary beads, also a gift of the bridegroom. Her cascade bouquet of white mums was centered with an orchid.

She followed all the wedding traditions.

Mrs. Norma DeSarro, aunt of the bride, was matron-of-honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Rose Ann Gerace of East Liverpool, cousin of the bride; Miss Anita Hobbs of Chester, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Mary Ann Sapanaro of Cleveland, Miss Phyllis Luckino, Miss Betty DeSarro, aunt of the bride, and Miss Nina Grade, all of Wellsville.

The attendants wore coral gowns of silk organza, ballroom style, tied with bows at the hemline. Their headpieces were fashioned similar to the bride's and were made of coral organza to match their gowns. The bridesmaids carried a cascade bouquet of white mums while the bouquet of the matron-of-honor was of blue mums.

They were given jewel boxes and white mitts by the bride and the bridegroom gave his attendants jewel boxes and cuff links.

John Hays of Chester was best man and ushers were William DeSarro, brother of the bride; Earl Finney, cousin, and Jack Beckner and Jack Johnson of Chester and John Venesile and Joseph Commarota.

The bride's mother was attired in a Parisian green wool two-piece dress with rust accessories while the bridegroom's mother wore a pink knit suit with pink and white accessories.

Guests were present from Niles, Vernon, N. Y., Midland, Wheeling, Monaca, New Castle, Mars, Pittsburgh, Washington, Pa., Follansbee, Chicago, Louisville, Cleveland, Youngstown, Columbiana, Beloit, Yorkville, Wooster and New Kensington.

The bride, a graduate of Wellsville High School, is employed at Krosney's Jewelry store in East Liverpool. Her husband was graduated from Chester High School and is associated with his father at Hobbs Lincoln Service in Chester.

Pope

world already was on the eve of World War II. Ahead were the years of onslaught against religion by communism.

Already all the 55 cardinals who are able were preparing for the nine days of ritualistic mourning, the funeral and the grand conclave that will elect the next pontiff.

The cardinals, princes of the church, will make the selection. Their choice most likely will be one of their number, though it could be a prelate not a cardinal.

Pius was the first pope to die at this papal summer residence and the first in 200 years to die outside Rome. Changes therefore are necessary in the traditional ritual. But Pius already had provided for that contingency in a regulation issued in 1945 which said that if a pope died outside Rome he should be returned to Vatican City in dignity and decorum.

The full mourning period is nine days and at the end—presumably next Friday Oct. 17—the body will be entombed in the grottos of St. Peter's, in a place of the Pope's own choosing. Pius XII had asked to lie alongside Pius X, whom he canonized as a saint in 1954.

The cardinals at their meeting today also will arrange for the "interregnum," the period between the death of a pope and the election of a new one. During this period the direction of emergency affairs of the church will fall largely on the shoulders of Eugene Cardinal Tisserant, 74-year-old dean of the College of Cardinals.

The secret conclave for choosing a new pope is to be held as soon as possible after 15 days following the death of a pontiff.

In the Pope's last hours, expressions of hope for his recovery had come from around the world and from people of all creeds. These messages now turned to expressions of sorrow from the high and the low.

The Soviet news agency Tass, which had not reported the Pope's illness, reported his death in a brief dispatch.

The death of Pius XII, who guided the church through Nazi-fanned hot wars and Communist-chilled cold wars, did not deprive it of his guidance. He left behind scores of encyclicals, speeches and other documents which have become part of Roman Catholic heritage.

He literally worked himself to death, in the opinion of Vatican officials.

The last two months here were among the busiest of his busy reign, although Castel Gandolfo is supposed to be a place of rest. Almost daily during September he addressed large audiences.

As October started, he was clearly fatigued.

Gastritis and hiccups, which had brought him close to death four years ago, returned last week. His doctors suggested he reduce his work load.

He tried to compromise with the physicians, and refrained from addressing one audience.

Early Monday he was stricken by a cerebral circulatory attack — stroke. He rallied slightly Tuesday. Early Wednesday there was a second stroke which left him in a coma and partially paralyzed.

In the afternoon he suffered a grave cardiac pulmonary collapse. A kidney block troubled him. His temperature rose to 107.6 degrees.

Roman Catholics around the world were asked to pray for the Pope in his last moments.

Cardinals and other high church prelates, gathered in his room, watched his labored breathing. His relatives and personal aides were there. In all about 30 persons were present.

A rosary was in the pontiff's left hand, a crucifix on his chest. A mourning mass was said for the dying.

His doctors watched him closely. Then, when his time had come, they notified Cardinal Tisserant, who entered the plain white chamber with its brass bedstead and performed the traditional service of recognition of death.

The body was embalmed immediately and dressed in the pontifical robes familiar to millions — a white silk cassock, an ermine-trimmed crimson velvet cape and on his head a camauro, a medieval pontifical headgear.

Members of the Noble Guard, with drawn swords and golden breastplates, took stations in the room. High-ranking Vatican dignitaries began a mournful pilgrimage to the bier, to kneel in prayer and to kiss his hand for the last time.

Area Parishes Await Special Service Plans

Church officials at St. Aloysius and St. Ann Catholic Churches today were awaiting information from the diocese authorities concerning arrangements for special services as a result of the death of Pope Pius.

Fr. Alphonsus Domnick of the Chester Sacred Heart Catholic Church said:

"The church has lost a great man in the death of Pope Pius, whose life was one of holiness and sanctity and constant care and devotion to the masses in the world. He had a formula for peace which I am sure the new Pope will incorporate in restoring faith and Peace throughout the earth."

Fr. Domnick said special services will be held at the Chester church, which will also be draped in memory of the Pope, but details of the services await an announcement from Bishop John J. Swint of the Wheeling Diocese.

Fr. Francis E. Paul, priest of Midland Presentation Catholic church, said today he was unable to obtain any information concerning services for Pope Pius XII when he called the Pittsburgh Diocese this morning.

Worried Braves Face Confident Yankees In Series Final

Lew Burdette, Larsen Carry Teams' Hopes

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A suddenly tight, worried Milwaukee team faced a suddenly carefree, confident New York club today in the seventh and final game as the World Series string finally ran out.

Lew Burdette and Don Larsen, opposing moundsmen in the seventh game of last year's World Series, were virtually certain to face each other again in the payoff game for the world championship. Burdette won last year 5-0.

Despite Burdette's four victories over New York in five meetings over a two-series span, and the fact that he was pitching on home grounds, the Yankees ruled an 11-10 favorite to gain revenge on the Braves.

Yankee spirits soared after their 4-3 triumph in 10 innings Wednesday. It gave them two straight, three out of the last four, and enabled them to square the Series at 3-all. From Manager Casey Stengel down, the Yankees felt certain they would win.

Stengel didn't say for sure that Larsen, who hurled seven shutout innings and was credited with the day, would pitch the decisive game. He just said, "It looks like Larsen will go tomorrow."

Then he added: "It might be Johnny Kucks. You might consider Bob Turley also. And maybe Ryne Duren will be in there again."

Duren and Turley worked in Wednesday's game, along with starter Whitey Ford and Art Ditmar. Duren took over in the sixth with the score tied 2-2 and pitched four scoreless innings before a walk and hits by Hank Aaron and Joe Adcock produced a Milwaukee run and forced his exit. Turley came in to retire pinchhitter Frank Torre, ending the game with the tying run on third, the potential winning run on first. The victory went to Duren, who fanned eight.

Warren Spahn, the Braves' ace, was the loser.

Their composure badly shaken, the Braves were banking everything on Burdette just as they did last year. Fidgety Lew was making his third start in seven days and his second in three. He won the second game 13-5 but was shelled from the mound in a six-run sixth inning of the fifth game Monday, won by the Yankees 7-0.

The Braves had several chances to pull away, especially in the early innings when they had Ford on the ropes. Each time they let him get off the hook. Their defensive work was shoddy too, and it wasn't all the fault of the soggy footing, caused by an early morning rain that for a time threatened to force a postponement.

The Braves committed four errors, more than the combined total of both teams in the previous five games. Spahn, picthing with only two days rest, surmounted the first three but the fourth, a fumble by Billy Bruton, paved the way for New York's tying run. Oddly enough, Bruton's error came only minutes after Manager Fred Haney had sent him to center field in place of Andy Pafko for defensive purposes.

The Braves led 2-1 when Mickey Mantle and Elston Howard cracked back-to-back singles with none out in the sixth inning. Bruton bobbled Elston Howard's hit, his first of the series, and Mantle, who had stopped at second, advanced to third. Mickey scored on Berra's sacrifice fly. After Bill Skowron walked, pinch hitters Enos Slaughter grounded out and Jerry Lumpe struck out.

The Braves got half of their 10 hits in the first two innings but scored only twice. Red Schoendienst's single, a sacrifice and Aaron's single furnished a run in the first inning. In the second they peppered Ford for three hits and a walk but got only one run out of it.

Gil McDougald's homer snapped a 2-2 tie in the 10th. When Howard and Berra singled with two out, Don McMahon replaced the 37-year-old left-hander and gave up a run-scoring single to Bill Skowron before retiring the side.

Soggy Outfield, Dry Sky Outlook For Game

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A soggy outfield under a dry sky was the weatherman's forecast for this afternoon when the New York Yankees and the Milwaukee Braves play the seventh and final game of the World Series.

Milwaukee was drenched by rain Wednesday night and is expected to be soaked again tonight but partly cloudy skies — without rain — were predicted for this afternoon.

The weatherman forecast a high temperature of near 70 this afternoon. Game time is 3 p.m. (DST).

DOUBLED UP AT HOME. The Braves' Andy Pafko, diving into home plate, is caught by wide margin as he tries to score from third on Johnny Logan's fly to short left field in the second inning at Milwaukee Wednesday. The Yanks' Elston Howard made a perfect throw to the plate and Yogi Berra tagged Pafko to complete the double play. (UPI Telephoto)

Haney Says He'd Do It Again On Using Spahn

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Manager Fred Haney of the Milwaukee Braves paused for a moment and then answered:

"I would have to make the same decision again and go with Spahnie."

That was Haney's answer to the second guess when he was asked if he had to do it over would he again name Warren Spahn to pitch the sixth game of the World Series with only two days rest.

The Yankese won 4-3 in a game which turned out to be the second-guessers' delight.

Spahn did a brilliant job but how much better off would the Braves have been if they had gambled with another pitcher and had Spahn ready for today's finale with three days rest?

"He's a tremendous pitcher," said Yankee catcher Yogi Berra, "but he wasn't as good as he was Sunday when he beat us 3-0. It's tough pitching with two days rest. Look at our guy."

"Our guy" was Whitey Ford, who started with two days rest. Ford didn't last two innings. Art Ditmar, who many figured would be Manager Casey Stengel's choice, relieved Ford and gave up only two hits—one a bunt single—in 3 1-3 innings.

If Stengel had started Ditmar and won, he would have had a rested Whitey Ford for today's big game.

What would have happened if Braves' coach Billy Herman hadn't sent Andy Pafko home in the second inning on Johnny Logan's fly ball to left. Elston Howard made a perfect throw and Pafko was out to end the inning.

Had Pafko been held up, the Braves would have had the bases loaded with slugger Eddie Mathews at bat.

If umpire John Flaherty had ruled a catch on Wes Covington's drive to Mickey Mantle in the second inning, would Whitey Ford have gone the route? Or maybe, the Braves might have won the game.

Let's say Ford survived the second inning and later got into a quick jam and had someone hit a homer to give Milwaukee a two or three run lead. It would have happened because catcher Yogi Berra admitted Ford didn't have good stuff.

Bauer Needs Two Hits Today To Equal Series Record Of 12

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

World Series notes and quotes:

Two hits by Hank Bauer today will enable the Yankee outfielder to tie another series record. Bauer has 10 safeties and the standard is 12 shared by Ed Rice of Washington and Pepper Martin of the St. Louis Cards and Billy Martin when he was still with the Yankees.

The difference between winning and losing today's crucial game amounts to exactly $104,447. The winning team gets $313,339 and the loser $208,892. The commissioner's office will announce the exact number of shares next week. Each winner will get about $9,000 and each loser close to $6,000.

Red Schoendienst, the Braves' 35-year-old second baseman, is enjoying his best series. His two hits Wednesday boosted his batting average to .320. Red hit .233 in 1946 and .278 in 1957 — his only other series.

Warren Spahn kept up his reputation as a good hittin' pitcher Wednesday. He had one hit and drove in a run. Overall, Spahn has four safeties in 12 tries for a .333 average — the same mark he compiled during the regular season while stroking 36 hits in 108 at bats.

With a batting average of .385, Hank Bauer is hitting more than double his weight of 191 pounds. "But, "he admits, "I weighed only 102 pounds as a junior in high school and they wouldn't even consider me for the football team."

Second Rate When Losing, Spahn Says

By CHUCK CAPALDO
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — No one loses harder than Warren Spahn, the Milwaukee Braves' indestructible left-hander.

This was never more evident than Wednesday after he had dropped a 4-3, 10-inning decision to the Yankees in the sixth game of the World Series. The series now is squared at 3-all.

"You either win or you don't," he said in the Braves' almost deserted clubhouse while his young son Greg stood nearby. "Nothing else makes any difference."

"When you don't," he continued, "you're second rate period. Anybody can wind up second."

Spahn, 37, wouldn't be Spahn if he didn't berate himself for losing a ball game, even though he battled the Yankees for 9 2-3 innings with only two days' rest.

The fact that he has pitched 28 2-3 innings and beaten the Yankees twice made little difference. Had the series ended Wednesday, his total innings pitched would have gone down in the books as a new series record.

"What good is a record like that when we didn't win?" he said.

Then, turning the page on a new thought, he commented as though talking to himself: "They (the Yankees) are not used to losing. We've got to beat them. They're not going to beat themselves. When the ball game is even, they have the edge. . . No. I won't say that . . .

"Even if we had beaten them four straight, I'd still say they have a good ball club. They're tough, no getting around that. I've said right along, there's not much to choose between these two teams."

Brown Patching Holes In Cleveland Offense

CLEVELAND (AP)—Coach Paul Brown is busy patching up holes in the Cleveland Browns offense caused by injuries.

Lew Carpenter and Kenny Konz are running plays from new positions as the Browns tune up for Sunday's battle with the Chicago Cardinals.

Carpenter, a left halfback, is being primed for the end position normally played by Pete Brewster.

The changes were necessitated when halfback Leroy Bolden and Brewster sustained injuries in last Sunday's 45-12 defeat of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Potters Will Meet Ohio's Top Eleven At Warren Friday

Paul Warfield Chief Threat Of Panthers

The confronting problem—as yet unsolved—of how to unseat the state's No. 1 ranked football team looms as a giant question mark for Coach Lou Venditti as he prepares to send his young Potters against Warren Harding's Black Panthers Friday night.

Kickoff is scheduled for 8 p. m. (DST) at Warren Harding Stadium.

The Potters, hit hard by recent injuries to key regulars, will be meeting Warren for the first time in the school's history and indications are that they couldn't have picked a worse year.

Coach Gene Slaughter's powerhouse has rolled over three of the state's mightiest this season, beginning with a 7-0 victory over Cleveland Collinwood, knocking off always-tough Canton McKinley's Bulldogs, 18-6, and won last week over Mansfield's Tygers, 30-12.

Warren's only blemish on an other-wise perfect record is a 16-16 tie with third-ranked Cleveland Cathedral Latin. Mansfield, before meeting Warren, had given opponents only eight points in three games.

The big threat of the Black Panthers is Paul Warfield, Ohio's 1957 broad jump champion, who scored three touchdowns against Canton McKinley and ran 111 yards in eight carries against Cleveland Cathedral Latin.

A lightning-fast 160-pound junior, Warfield teams with another speedster in Willie Jones, a 165-pound junior, and Bob Sims, 175-pound pile-driving fullback, to give Warren its fastest backfield in over a decade and a half.

Warfield has seven touchdowns to his credit and amazed Warren fans in the Latin game by catching an 11-yard pass while leaning on one hand, scrambling to his feet, and weaving his way 67 yards for a touchdown which sparked the Panthers to victory.

Both Warfield and Jones are masters of the trick which separates an average runner from a good one — the change of pace — while Sims is considered a runner in the class of Bill "Thunder" Thornton, Toledo Libbey's all-state candidate. He also handles punting chores.

Joe Malone, a 150-pound senior, clever at handling handoffs from Warren's expected T-formation, and an exceptional passer, is listed as the starting quarterback.

Warren's line is not exceptionally heavy but is well-seasoned with five seniors and three juniors. Their tenacity was proved in the victory over Latin as the hefty Cleveland line outweighed Warren's by upwards of 30 pounds per man.

Spearheading the Warren forward wall is Dave Tutich, a 204-pound senior, who goes at left end.

Although not as fast as the remainder of the team, Tutich gets the nod as Warren's best lineman for his outstanding play this far in the season.

Dick Laraway, 170-pound junior, will go at right end, and the tackles will include Joe Perfetti, 180-pound senior, on the left side, and Joe Minotti, 170-pound senior, on the other side. Ken Reiser, 160-pound senior, probably will start at left guard, and Bob Thompson, 155-pound senior, at right guard.

Ted Rodosovich, 175-pound junior, will be at center. Bill DeCavitch, 150-pound junior, who participates in amateur boxing as a sideline, is slated for early defensive action.

Warren will have no depth problems in facing the Potters as 30 other players are listed on the varsity roster—nearly as many as listed on the entire Potter squad. The heaviest of the replacements are Rocky Bufano, 195-pound junior guard and Joe Imburgia, 200-pound senior tackle.

Slaughter, who guided Warren to fourth position in the state last year with a 9-1 record, has been at the school only two years. He hails from Capital University.

Ticket sales at Warren have been reported very brisk and another capacity crowd is expected to fill Harding Stadium. Attendance figures for each of Warren's home games has been close to 9,000.

Strikes, Spares

By ROB NIBLOCK

Walt Zagula, bowling for Homer Laughlin in the National League Monday night, rolled a 273 scratch game — a new high for the City Association this season.

Zagula also has the high game in the National League, with a 23-pin handicap, giving him a 296 total, and has second high series of 670 as the result of his Monday night performance.

The bowlers rolling high game and high series for the season in the City Association, which includes all leagues, receive the ABC award of belt buckles with the winning scores engraved on them.

The Review League got underway Friday night and now only the girls high school league has not begun competition at the Don-Bus Alleys this season. Joe Burcham threw the high game of 188, and the high series of 516, and the Back Squirts lead the league after the first night of competition.

—:—

BROTHERS MIKE and Joe Gerace aided Irwins in its jump from fourth to first place in the City Ten Pin League Tuesday night by rolling high series scores of 569 and 538, respectively. Irwins now have 19 points and lead second place Strohs by one point.

Rearks moved ahead of Millirons by a scant one-half point margin Tuesday night in the Federal League. First place Rearks has 23½ points as compared to 23 for Millirons. Bill Southerland rolled the second high game of the season in the Federal League with a 267 scratch game.

Lucy Carter collected 10 straight spares for a 187 game in the Cosmo League, which is led by the Tea Pot.

The boys high school league began play last night, but arrangements are still incomplete for girls league from the high school.

Dale Keddie and George Wakefield announced Monday they expect to have the alleys at the Head Pin in East End ready for play by Wednesday, Oct. 15, if the remodeling progresses at its current pace.

Three Leagues Rem Cru, Chester Legion and the Little League—are already scheduled for competition at the Head Pin, and probably will bowl for averages next week. The Little League will have eight teams while the other two leagues will consist of four teams each.

Keddie reported that one of his five alleys, which are equipped with automatic pin setters, will be free for open bowling at all times.

THE RATE of split conversions continues to increase as bowlers throughout the leagues are turning splits to spares.

Federal League bowlers were most effective in conversions, collecting 15 spares on splits. Glen Wilson turned in the 5-8-10, Don Thompson 5-6, Bob Smusz 5-6, Len Shields, Buck Wilson and John Canne each collected the 3-10 twice, with Gil Leberatore, Bob Welch, Marty Fridrick, Bill Sutherland and Harry Snyder all picking up the 3-10 once.

Rose Comporetto collected three difficult splits — the 3-9-10, 5-8-10 and 3-10 — to head the list of 12 conversions in the Cosmo League. Britain Holds Lead In Golf

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) —Britain carried a six stroke lead into the second round of the world's first Amateur Golf Championship today with the players from 29 countries hoping for better weather.

The British team built up a 227-233 yead over the favored United States team Wednesday as gale like gusts of wind up to 60 miles an hour and a steady wind of 35 m. p. h. swept across the ancient course.

"The wind was strong enough to move a ball as much as a foot after it rest on the greens," said Britain's Guy Wolstenholme whose opening round of 76 placed him in a tie for fifth behind teammate Reid Jack (72), Charloe Coe of the U. S. (74), R. J. Charles of New Zealand (74) and Luis Silverio of the Philippines (75).

Low first round scorer for the U. S. team was Coe, 34-year-old reigning American Amateur champion, of Oklahoma City.

Philadelphia's Billy Hyndman had 79, Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, N. C., 80, and Dr. Frank Taylor of Pomona, Calif., an 81.

Tied for third place were Argentina and New Zealand with 236.

Each of the 29 countries entered in the tournament has fielded a team of three or four men. The lowest three scores recorded for each of the four days of competition count for the team's aggregate total.

Ditmar Was Wondering If He'd Get Into Series

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — "He told me I'd get into a game, but I was beginning to wonder."

The speaker was Art Ditmar, one of the heroes of the New York Yankees' get-even World Series victory.

It was Ditmar and Ryne Duren who had shut out the Milwaukee Braves over seven innings until the Yankees finally got to Warren Spahn. New York won it 4-3 in 10 innings.

"You never know what Stengel's thinking," said Ditmar. "I thought I would have liked to start, but as it turned out, it's a good thing I didn't."

Ditmar, the big, 29-year-old right-hander Manager Casey Stengel had tagged "my No. 1 man in the bullpen" from the time the series started, was the early warmup man through the first five games.

Wednesday Ditmar's first call came. He replaced starter Whitey Ford in the second inning with the bases loaded, one run in, one out and the Braves leading 2-1.

One pitch and the inning was over. Johnny Logan hit it to left field, Elston Howard caught it and nailed Andy Pafko at the plate for a double play.

The Braves got only two hits—Hank Aaron's bunt single and Red Schoendienst's double—off Ditmar before Casey lifted him for a pinch hitter in the tying sixth.

"Aaron's bunt surprised me. It was the last thing in the world I expected," Ditmar said. It was Ditmar who got the ball, then threw wild to first, pulling Bill Skowron into Aaron's path.

Skowron and Aaron went flying. Aaron dashed to second after picking himself up.

"I should have thrown him out at first," said Ditmar. "But the ball was a little wet and I put too much on it.

'Back Of Week' Honors Awarded Navy's Tranchini

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Joe Tranchini, Navy's rapidly developing quarterback, earned two accolades this week.

His teammates nicknamed him "Trigger Joe" after his bullet passes paced Navy to a 28-14 victory over Boston University and The Associated Press Wednesday designated him "Back of the Week" for the same performance.

The honors for the 187-pound junior from Clairton, Pa., were earned in less than 30 minutes against Boston. But he completed 18 of 27 passes for 221 yards and three touchdowns to put the Middies in a commanding lead.

His 18 completions tied the naval academy record for passes completed in one game, set by George Welsh as a senior in 1955 against Army. The total yardage was only 64 short of the academy record, also set by Welsh, against Penn State in 1955.

College Coaches Change Offense Patterns For Big Games

'Fool' Scouts But Stand Pat On Defenses

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

A successful football offense is one that never stands pat from Saturday to Saturday.

With Saturday presenting the biggest batch of evenly matched teams so far, college coaches are deftly changing offenses from those viewed by opposing scouts last week, and at the same time, insuring the "stand patness" of their defenses.

Baylor combined the two in Wednesday's sessions. Fullback Larry Hickman, second leading ball carrier in the Southwest Conference with a 4.7 yards per carry average, tested his team's goal line defense and their close-in scoring punch.

The latter proved successful three times against a defense that has allowed only one TD in three games, but which is prepping for Duke's versatile offense Saturday.

Coach Earle Edwards of North Carolina State put some new zing into the Wildcats' offense prior to the Wake Forest game. Dissatisfied with his single wing manipulations, he inserted plays using the double-wing from the T-formation.

North Carolina, whose offense has been woeful so far, added some new plays for its bout with South Carolina, while Virginia Military took time out to practice against all imagineable variations for its game with William & Mary. The Indians showed up last year with types of plays that VMI had not known existed, and had the Cadets on the ropes before losing 14-13.

Winless Minnesota jacked up its passing offensive formations, while opponent Northwestern did the same. Frank Howard put additional variations into Clemson's T and split-T repetoire prepping for Vanderbilt.

Notre Dame has locked the gates this week as it gets ready for Army Saturday. Coach Terry Brennan won't say what's going on, but the Irish are expected multiple offense to offset Army's "bazooka" attack.

Michigan used a single wing in defeating Southern Cal 20-19, and a split-T in tying Michigan State 12-12 last week. What they will have this Saturday has Navy Coach Eddie Erdlatz worried.

Penn used a sub halfback to simulate Princeton's Dan Sachs' running of the Tigers' in-and-out end run that put Columbia to route last week, and threatens Penn this Saturday.

Southern Methodist Coach Bill Meek, with his ace quarterback Don Mreedith on crutches and a doubtful starter against Missouri Saturday, sent his charges through a quick-whistle scrimmage on offense. Syracuse whoned its passing arm prior to the Cornell game, as did Illinois in prepping for its tilt with Ohio State.

Only 2,339 Attend Benefit Hockey Game

CLEVELAND (AP)—Only 2,339 hockey fans contributed to a benefit for the society for crippled children by watching the Cleveland Barons go down to an 8-3 defeat before the Detroit Red Wings Wednesday night at the Arena. The victory was the ninth straight for the National Hockey League club. Bob Barlow, 23-year-old left wing, scored in the first and third period for the Barons, who open their American Hockey League season here Saturday night against Rochester.

Albie Pearson of the Senators, Roman Mejias of the Pirates and Willie Tasby of the Orioles will play with the Havana Reds in the Cuban Winter League.

Daley Says Tribe May Move From Cleveland Next Year

MILWAUKEE (AP) — William R. Daley, chairman of the board of directors of the Cleveland Indians, said today the American League club may move out of Cleveland by next year.

'Daley said:

"Within the next two weeks we will have a meeting in Cleveland and lay the facts before the stockholders. At that time we will decide whether to stay in Cleveland or move."

Under baseball laws a club has until Oct. 31 to make a request to move its franchise.

Daley did not indicate where the club might move, if it does. Minneapolis and Houston, Tex., have been mentioned as possibilities.

Daley met with George Kirksey, spokesman for the Houston syndicate attempting to obtain major league franchise. Houston recently approved a 22 - million - dollar bond issue to provide funds for building a new ball park to lure a major league team to the city.

Houston is now a member of the Class AA Texas League.

Minneapolis, which has a major league ball park, has been attempting to get a major league club for three years. Recently it was turned down by the Washington Senators.

Daley is known to be disappointed by attendance in Cleveland, which drew a major league record of 2,600,000 in 1948. It has fallen steadily since and this past season dropped to a new low of 600,000.

Fire Engine Starts Fire

PITTSBURG, Kan. (AP)—John Marietta and his son took a 1921 vintage fire engine into a field for a trial run. A broken fuel line caused a fire in the engine, and the flames spread to the dry grass of the field. The fire was put out with a hand extinguisher.

Campaigning For Senate

Right To Work Defended In Speech By Sen. Bricker

DOVER, Ohio (AP)—The right to work as one chooses should not be taken away by anyone, U. S. Sen. John W. Bricker said at nearby Wainwright Wednesday night. Campaigning for his third term in the Senate, Bricker said:

"Rights enjoyed for 150 years should not be taken away by anyone. Those rights include the right to worship, to speak, to assemble together, and to work as one chooses. Those rights cannot be taken away by government itself or by any individual.

"When you increase the power of government or the power of minority groups you suppress individual rights that much more. That kind of power is not to be tolerated."

So far in his campaign the Republican candidate has not taken a formal stand on Issue No. 2, a proposal to regulate labor contracts through an amendment of the Ohio constitution.

This amendment states: "No employer or labor organization shall deny or abridge the right to work by requiring membership or non-membership in, or payment or non-payment of money to a labor organization as a condition of employment or continued employment in this state."

Bricker's Columbus headquarters announced Wednesday that the senator would take a formal stand on the issue in a statewide television appearance at 8 p.m. (DST) next Tuesday night. Originating from Youngstown, his speech will be telecast by stations in Cincinnati, Columbus, Toledo, Dayton, Lima, Zanesville, Akron, Cleveland, Steubenville and Huntington, W. Va.

While Bricker was addressing the Tuscarawas County audience, his democratic opponent, Stephen M. Young of Cleveland, was speaking two counties to the west in Ashland, reitering a challenge to Bricker to take a stand on issue No. 2.

At a Democratic ox roast at the Ashland County fair grounds, Young said the "latest O'Neill flip-flop is designed to cover up the fact that O'Neill recognized that he didn't have the votes to put over such a plank and as a device to enable Sen. Bricker to continue to dodge the issue."

Young referred to Gov. C. William O'Neill's statement that the proposal to regulate labor contracts, which the governor favors, is not a partisan matter and that O'Neill doesn't want the party's state convention in Columbus today to include a stand on it as a platform plank.

Glass Strike Looms Friday

28,000 Get Set To Walkout At 2 Firms

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Furnaces were being cooled at 18 Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. and Libbey-Owens-Ford plants as some 25,000 members of the United Glass and Cereamics Workers Union prepared to strike the two companies.

The two firms are the nation's largest makers of auto glass.

Ralph Reiser, union president, said 11 locals in as many cities have been told to begin the orderly shutdown and to have it completed by the strike deadline of noon Friday.

Reiser said he issued the strike call after receiving what he termed an unsatisfactory answer to his offer to resume contract negotiations which were broken off a week ago in Miami, Fla.

Pittsburgh Plate Glass employs about 13,000 workers in 11 plants in seven cities. Libbey-Owens-Ford has about 12,000 workers at seven plants in four cities.

Six PPG plants were struck Monday as workers at Creighton and Ford City, Pa., walked off the job ahead of the strike deadline. There are three PPG plants in each city. They employ a total of 5,000 workers.

Some 6,000 workers in three L-O-F plants in Toledo walked off the job Tuesday.

PPG also has plants at Chrystal City, Mo.; Cumberland, Md.; Henrietta, Okla.; Mount Vernon, Ohio, and Clarksburg, W. Va. L-O-F has two plants at Ottawa, Ill., one at Shreveport, La., and one at Charleston, W. Va.

POSSIBLE SUCCESSOR. With the death of Pope Pius XII, speculation on his successor centers on seven churchmen. The leading candidates are Giacomo Cardinal Lercaro, top left, who is Archbishop of Bologna; Giuseppe Cardinal Siri, top right, of Genoa; Ernesto Cardinal Ruffini, lower left, Archbishop of Palermo, and Angelo Giuseppe Cardinal Roncalli, lower right, of Venice. 10,000 Return To Jobs At GM Plant In Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — About 10,000 workers of the Frigidaire Division of General Motors returned to their jobs today ending a weeklong strike by members of the International Union of Electrical Workers.

It was the first local settlement involving the IUE and General Motors. Negotiations between the union and GM on a national contract are continuing in Detroit.

Among the IUE locals still on strike in Ohio are the 7,000 member Local 755 at GM's Delco Division here and the local at Packard Electric plant at Warren, a GM factory employing 4,900 workers.

Joseph Shump, president of Local 801, said the settlement included provision for greater job security for those with high seniority and pay scales for newly created jobs.

Teachers File Suit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court has given the city school board of Lockland, a Cincinnati suburb, until Nov. 8 to reply to a suit filed by seven Negro teachers seeking assignments "without discrimination based on color." The teachers in a suit filed Tuesday asked the court to order cancellation of temporary assignments to Wayne School and new schedules at Lockland School under their continuing contracts.

The Bay of Bengal, the largest bay in the world, is part of the Indian Ocean.

U.S. Rubber Raps Requested Boost In Power Rates

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A rate increase sought by the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. would cost the U. S. Rubber Co.'s Painesville, Ohio, plant about $8,000 a year. And the plant could not afford to pay that much more in electric rates, a company representative said Wednesday.

J. H. Skeem, an electrical engineer from the company's New York office, testified at a Utilities Commission hearing on the electric company's request to raise its rates to 550,000 customers in Cuyahoga, Lake, Ashtabula, Geauga and Lorain Counties by 5½ million dollars a year.

Skeen read his statement at the end of the hearing after lawyers for the electric company and attorneys representing Cleveland and other cities protesting the rate boost argued most of the day over whether or not the case should be continued or postponed until a later date.

The commission over-ruled objections of the cities and decided to continue taking testimony in the case.

Led Tremendous Spiritual Struggle

Pope A Scholar, Soldier

By FRANK BRUTTO

VATICAN CITY (AP)—By nature and inclination, Pope Pius XII was a scholar. A world war and an ideological fight for men's minds compelled him to be a soldier.

But, years hence, Pius XII may be known best for his saintliness.

Many here believe that the frail, ascetic, yet almost incredibly hard-working man — frequently hailed by great crowds as "Papa Santo"—will one day be canonized a saint and thus receive the highest honor of the church.

The spiritual struggle he led was and is a tremendous one. In it, Pius XII, with countless written and spoken words, with prayers and directives to his hierarchy, urged believers in God to hold the ramparts of their faith against the forces of expanding materialistic and atheistic communism.

As a boy, Eugenio Pacelli was a solemn-eyed little fellow, easily identifiable amid his more robust classmates.

The young Pacelli, member of a Roman family enobled by popes it had served for generations, garnered scholastic honors. Early in life he indicated his wish to become a priest and began the long process of prayer and study that was to continue throughout his life.

He was ordained a priest at 23 and celebrated his first Mass in the Rome basilica of St. Mary Major—the world's oldest Catholic shrine to the Virgin Mary.

The Vatican's L'Osservatore Romano, founded by his grandfather, Marcantonio Pacelli, reported the Mass and forecast a great future for the young priest.

Fifty years later, as the 261st pontiff, Pius XII made his 1950 Holy Year pilgrimage to the same basilica. It was a hot August day.

At St. Mary Major, he stepped briskly from a big American car —gift of U.S. Catholics. He raised his hand in blessing and the sun struck little blue rays from the "fisherman's ring" on his finger.

The pontiff hurried to pray before the altar where he had said his first Mass.

He was then in the 11th year of his pontificate.

His accomplishments already have assured him a place among the great popes.

Despite persecution in Communist-ruled countries, the membership of the Catholic Church throughout the world has reached a record high.

In private, special and tremendous general audiences, Pius had received millions of people—more than had any other pontiff in history. He spoke to them in six languages and on many subjects.

He had made many saints. He had announced that a decade of digging under St. Peter's Basilica had confirmed that St. Peter, prince of the Apostles, had been buried directly below the main confessional altar.

He had reiterated many of the basic tenets of the church, defending its dogmas and warning both the laity and clergy against modernism and novelty—this despite the fact that he sometimes was called "The Modern Pope." That description was based upon superficial things — the fact that he shaved with an electric razor, that he used a typewriter and telephone, that, as a cardinal, he had flown in an airplane when he visited the United States in 1936. But he tolerated no deviation from basic teachings.

Mindful of grave economic stresses, he gave as temperate an interpretation as possible. But in an address to Italian midwives he warned that the life of an unborn child could not be sacrificed to save the life of the mother — a statement that was termed "inhuman, callous and cruel" by the Church of England newspaper. So much criticism followed the statement that the pontiff reiterated the church's stand.

No innocent life, he said, could be directly sacrificed for the sake of another, and this applied to childbirth. Both the life of the child and that of the mother are equally precious, said the Pope.

If one were to try to pick what Pius XII may have himself considered the supreme moment of his life, a good guess would be that it was the moment when he proclaimed the dogma of the Virgin Mary's bodily assumption into heaven.

The dogma was proclaimed in St. Peter's Square Nov. 1, 1950. From 600,000 to 700,000 people packed the square and the broad Via della Conciliazione to Castel Sant'Angelo, on the bank of the Tiber nearly half a mile away.

In front of St. Peter's central door, a temporary throne was placed for the Pope. Nearby were 39 cardinals and 600 patriarchs, archbishops and bishops — by all counts the biggest gathering of the Catholic hierarchy ever held.

A roar of approval rose when the Pope's words, carried by loudspeaker, declared it catholic dogma that the Virgin Mary, "The course of her life on earth terminated, was assumed to the heavenly glory in soul and body."

Verdict Awaited For Check Trial

A verdict is expected this afternoon at Lisbon in the trial of Robert C. Looman, 30, of Hookstown, accused of issuing a fraudulent check.

He is the last of four men arrested in July by East Liverpool police investigating bad checks totaling almost $1,200.

Fred Looman, 20, of Chester was convicted Oct. 3 and Floyd Looman, 35, of East Liverpool on Tuesday.

They were indicted by the September Grand Jury with Clarence O. Powell, 52, of Coraopolis, who pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 1-3 years in the Ohio Penitentiary.

Two checks were introduced by the state Wednesday, one passed at the Brookside Restaurant on Route 7 and the other at City Hospital.

The jury sworn in yesterday morning by Common Pleas Court Judge Raymond S. Buzzard included Gertrude Blevins, Rollins Shattenberg and Dorothy Boley of East Liverpool, Betty Barckhoff and Meriam Gordon of Salem, John A. Steffins of Lisbon, Helen Ruff and Robert L. George of East Rochester, H. O. Stanley of Damascus, Robert Vollnogle of Columbiana, Meridith Lane of East Palestine and Carl Murray of Minerva R. D. Genevieve Hill of Salem is alternate.

Cardinal Stepinac Unlikely To Be At Pope's Funeral

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) —Roman Catholic Church sources in Zagreb today said it is unlikely Alojzije Cardinal Stepinac will try to go to Rome for the funeral of Pope Pius XII and the consistory to elect his successor.

The ailing, 60-year-old cardinal himself was unavailable for comment. He remained isolated from the outside world at his native village of Krasic, where the Yugoslav government has confined him since it paroled him from prison in 1951.

Church officials in Zagreb believed Cardinal Stepinac would again refuse to leave the country for fear that President Tito's Communist government would not allow him to return.

The Romans were the first people in history to wear undershirts.

Council Told Parking Laws To Be Codified

Midland Will Lease Land To Purchaser Of Home For Entry

Atty. Robert Masters, solicitor, told Midland Council Wednesday night that he and Police Chief Ed Stefl are working on the codification of the several parking ordinances.

He said the combined ordinance should be ready for Council's next meeting.

Mrs. Edmond Pack of Smiths Ferry R. D. 1 inquired concerning her request to buy borough-owned land adjoining the incinerator in Ohio Township to use as an entrance to her property.

Councilman Raymond Presutti, member of the committee studying her request, reported they decided it would be better for the borough to lease the land on a year - to - year basis with option to renew.

Council approved the committee's recommendation. Masters explained to Mrs. Edmond that the borough could take the property only on a 60-day notice. He is preparing the lease.

Councilman Harvey Sponcer raised the question of repairs to Midland Ave. at 12th and 14th Sts. in particular. Council approved a motion that Mrs. C. K. O'Hara, borough secretary, write the state about the needed repairs.

Sponcer also told Council that lines need repainting at the entrances to the Rem-Cru Titanium parking lot on Midland Ave. He said cars parking too near to one entrance creates a problem. The matter was referred to R. E. Steebner, borough engineer.

Sponcer reminded Council of Fire Prevention Week and said Midland's fire equipment was to participate in the annual firemen's parade last night at Baden.

He said the Midland High School Band was unable to attend due to school regulations concerning mid-week activities. The Midland firemen were to sponsor the band's trip.

Midland had a good record last month with only two fire calls, Sponcer reported.

Council approved the reports of the borough secretary, Chief Stefl, George Griffin, justice of the peace; Rudy Presutti, tax collector; Steebner, building inspector, Joe Stanik, treasurer and Nick D'Innocenzo, sanitary sewer inspector.

Council voted to pay all bills. Councilmen William Vinovich and Joseph Hibbard were absent.

U.S. Plan Approved On World Bank Boost

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Members of the World Bank today approved a U. S. proposal to increase the bank's resources to boost available loans to underdeveloped countries.

The action was in the form of a request to the bank's Executive Board to recommend the amount of the increase and the quotas of individual countries. The proposal must then be approved by the parliaments of most member countries.

Although the amount of the increase was not decided, a number of countries — including the United States, Britain and Canada —are known to favor a 100 per cent boost in the authorized capital.

Delegates of several countries said they hoped the increased resources would be available by the middle of next year.

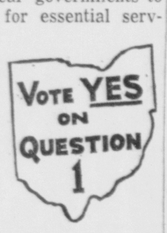
Metropolitan Federation Amendment

Question No. 1 On November Ballot
No Threat To Political Subdivision

(Question No. 1 on the Nov. 4 ballot in Ohio would enable 12 counties with cities of more than 500,000 population to vote for or against metropolitan federation. This is the third of four articles outlining what the state constitutional amendment would mean.)

By GILBERT F. SHEPARD
Brush-Moore Staff Writer

Metropolitan federation poses no threat to any political subdivision but permits local governments to provide better for essential services to their citizens.



The fate of the proposed amendment to Ohio's constitution, which would permit federation in 12 metropolitan areas throughout the state, rests in the hands of the electors when they go to the polls Nov. 4.

Federation is nothing more than old-fashioned cooperation decked out in modern dress to meet present-day problems, its proponents point out.

-:-

AS SUCH it poses no threat to present political subdivisions. There can be no action unless residents of a given area elect to change or abolish these subdivisions and substitute something else in their place.

It provides that cities and townships within a county or the county itself may join hands with others across artificial political boundaries to solve perplexing mutual problems.

These problems usually consist of such things as providing satisfactory sewer and water service, police and fire protection, highways, welfare, recreation, garbage disposal and many other items.

Use of the system of federation is limited to counties which contain a city of 50,000 or more population.

-:-

CITIES QUALIFYING under the 1950 census in this regard are: Canton, Lima, Hamilton, Springfield, Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati, Toledo, Lorain, Youngstown, Dayton and Akron.

Census figures in 1960 may add three others to the roster: Zanesville in Muskingum County, Mansfield in Richard County and Warren in Trumbull County.

A federation charter is a document in which definite powers presently exercised by cities, townships or the county are delegated to the federation.

The powers delegated and specific functions to be covered by the new organization are put down in black and white.

-:-

ANYTHING not given the federation to administer remains under the administration of present political subdivisions.

Federation may be all-inclusive or it may be narrow, as the citizens vote to have it. It can cover one function or a dozen. It can link together a few or many communities and even serve as the county government if voters approve.

There is only one condition. The largest city in the county must be included in the agreement. Also, the plan may not overlap county borders.

Communities left out of the original compact may join in later if they decide they, too, wish to participate in its benefits.

-:-

SHOULD THE amendment to the state constitution be approved in November, a definite course of action confronts the 12 eligible cities in setting up any federation they want.

The process can start with either the City Council in the county's largest city or the board of county commissioners.

These bodies may decide that the question of appointing a commission to draw up a home rule charter should be submitted to voters at the next election.

If they do not, however, and residents of the area desire this action, they may initiate it with a petition to be submitted to City Council or the commissioners.

-:-

PETITIONS MUST bear a number of signatures equal to 10 per cent of the number of electors in the area who participated in the last gubernatorial election.

When sufficient signatures are collected, petitions are deposited with the lawmakers, who then are required to submit the question to a vote.

The vote may come at a general or primary election. A nonpartisan ballot will carry the names of candidates running for membership on the federation charter commission.

Fifteen of these persons are to be elected if the question is carried. Winners are declared in the order of number of votes received.

Not more than seven of the body's membership may be drawn from the city itself.

-:-

CANDIDATES for election will be nominated by petitions containing no fewer than 100 nor more than 500 signatures from the metropolitan area.

Commission members, who have one year to complete the task, will be charged with drafting the federation charter for submission to voters at the next election.

During the one-year period, they must ascertain what service functions are to be included in the charter, the area to be covered and what powers of the present political subdivisions are to be delegated to the federation.

The charter will stipulate the form of government of the metropolitan consolidation and enumerate officers to be elected and the manner of their election.

-:-

ALL OFFICERS of the group will be selected by voters of the area.

The federation may exercise any of the powers vested by the constitution of Ohio in townships, municipalities or even counties, where countywide federation is contemplated.

Concurrent or exclusive exercise of the designated powers incorporated in the charter may be vested in the federation.

Powers not so designated are reserved to townships, municipalities or the county.

A charter, if so drawn up, conceivably might provide for succession by the federation to rights, properties and obligations of other political subdivisions.

-:-

IN THIS CASE and to the extent such powers are delegated, the consolidated group might participate in distribution of tax revenues collected by these subdivisions.

Once the charter is drawn up, it is submitted at the next election to the voters for acceptance or rejection.

To win, the charter must draw a majority vote not only in the entire area to be included, but also in the city of 50,000 within the county boundary and the area outside the city as well.

Once this procedure is completed, the federation is ready to start operating.

-:-

SCHOOLS ARE NOT among the items which may be included in any consolidation agreement. They are governed by other state statutes.

Although 76 counties of the state would be unaffected by the amendment, proponents of the proposal believe voters in those counties will be favorable to it on a "good neighbor" basis because they know it is something which will be of great value to larger counties.

BPW, Merchants Plan Observance Of Retailing Week

The local observance of National Careers in Retailing Week Sunday through Oct. 18 will be arranged jointly by the East Liverpool Merchants Association and the Business & Professional Women's Club.

Appearing before the high school class will be Mrs. Nessie Dunlope of the D. M. Ogilvie & Co. store, representing BPW, and Harold Allison, manager of the Frank Crook Co., who is chairman of the ELMA phase of the observance.

The program for the business college students will be arranged by Mrs. Marie R. Stier, one of the operators who also is a BPW member. The students will be given a check list designed to show aptitude for work in retailing, including interests, abilities, ambition, training and experience. Representing ELMA will be Don Eckert, who will speak on "Careers in Retailing."

The Ohio State Employment Service also will co-operate in the observance. Harry Dinsmore, manager, will discuss it in a weekly radio program and also will display promotional material in his office.

The observance is sponsored nationally by the National Retail Merchants Association, with headquarters in New York City.

Fire Loss $75,000

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Fire which started in a hayloft on the second floor caused damage estimated at $75,000 Wednesday night to a horse barn on Cyrus S. Eaton's Acadia farm near Northfield. Ten horses valued at $20,000 were led to safety from the basement level. Cause of the blaze was not determined. Eaton, who estimated the damage, said the barn probably would have to be torn down.

Chester Man Is Sentenced

Defendant Gets Year In Deputy Gun Fight

A Chester man was sentenced to a year in the Hancock County Jail at New Cumberland Wednesday in Circuit Court at New Cumberland after he pleaded guilty to the charges of shooting at five sheriff's deputies.

Arthur Irwin, 38, of near 3rd St., was sentenced by Judge J. Harold Brennan on an indictment of the September Grand Jury.

Irwin was accused of starting a blazing gun battle with deputies July 4 when they attempted to serve him with a warrant for shooting at his 13 - year - old step-daughter.

He was wounded in the chest in the volley and was in serious condition for several days in a Pittsburgh Hospital. He is a veteran of World War II with a medical discharge, authorities said.

Wednesday, deputies removed John Peter Seay from the County Jail to Moundsville State Penitentiary at Moundsville for a life sentence for the admitted rape of a 13 - year - old East Liverpool girl.

Deputies searched the jail and found a fish knife and piece of extension cord in Seay's cell which he apparently had cached for an escape attempt.

A Pittsburgh river boat worker, he had bribed other prisoners into giving him the weapons, deputies said. He was sentenced without recommendation for parole and authorities filed papers claiming he is an habitual criminal.

Temporary Unit Dissolved

Glenmoor Improvement Group Picks New Officers

Stewart Snyder was elected president of the Glenmoor Area Improvement Association Wednesday night, when the community group named permanent officers and dissolved an 8-month temporary organization after receiving a state charter as a non-profit corporation.

Snyder replaces Fire Chief Kenneth Mills, who served as temporary chairman after the group was organized last February. About 25 attended the meeting last night in the Glenmoor fire station. It was the first general meeting since April.

Other officers named are: Martin Christen, vice president; Richard Mattern, secretary; Devine Banks, treasurer; James Blazer, three-year trustee; Mills, two-year trustee, and Thomas Worcester, one-year trustee.

The group voted to endorse a seven-tenth mill levy on which St. Clair Township will vote at the Nov. 4 general election. In effect for one year, it would raise funds to finance preparation of a township zoning plan by a professional firm.

Worcester, explaining details of the plan worked out by the township zoning commission, said the proposal will be put on the ballot at the November 1959 general election.

Harvey Cottrill, retiring secretary, read the charter which the group obtained from Secretary of State Ted W. Brown at Columbus.

The group was formed early this year when reports began to circulate in the suburban areas on the fringe of East Liverpool that the city government intended to attempt annexation. Reassured that no annexation move was planned, the organization agreed to remain active as a general improvement group.

Outdoor Fire Hours Cited

Hancock Residents Reminded Of Law

Following the season's first killing frosts, Oliver Johnson, Hancock County agricultural agent, today reminded county residents that burning of leaves, grass and other materials outdoors is prohibited in West Virginia between the hours of 5 a. m. and 5 p. m.

Johnson urged residents to do burning in the evenings but warned that they still are responsible for fires that may get out of control.

"If you must burn brush or trash, wait until evening, and then only when the air is still, and the grass and leaves are damp enough not to ignite from flying sparks," Johnson said.

He added that parents may be held responsible for fires started by their children and urged residents who plan to burn trash outdoors, to make or buy a Civil Defense approved burner.

Walter Sayre, state forest warden for the county, also discussed the fire regulations. He said industries desiring permits to burn during the daytime may obtain them from himself or Harry Beatty of Newell. Night fires are more safe because the air is settled and moist.

The agricultural agent also announced that the annual conservation banquet is scheduled for Oct. 29. Walter Gumbel, conservationist with the Monongahela Power Co., and T. R. Hash, extension poultryman at West Virginia University, will probably attend.

Don't Joke About What Others Consider Sacred

We parents can't afford to joke about sacred things. If we do, our children will also. To most of us, sacred things usually mean things related to religion. Any person has the right not to consider certain religious symbols and practices sacred himself, but he's almost sure to mingle with others who do. When he jokes about any of these matters in the presence of those who consider them sacred, he infringes on their rights and feelings.

By Garry Meyers

—:—

IF A CHILD hears us joke about something that is sacred to someone he respects and admires, see the harm we can do.

Some years ago, I used to hear a long-time friend of mine make a joke of Bible quotations in an effort to be funny. This must have seemed sacrilegious to his children as well as to many adults.

You, yourself, have often heard a person who attended a church or synagogue make remarks about some religious practice of another faith in a poor attempt at humor.

How often have you heard, for example, a person of one faith make fun of the way certain religious groups fast on certain days or observe certain dietary laws?

—:—

THERE ARE many other matters which are sacred to the persons concerned. When we make remarks under the guise of humor about such matters, see the harm we do other persons, ourselves and our children.

As a rule, jokes of this nature suggest we feel superior to those we joke about. What moral right have any of us to belittle other persons and what is precious to them?

A rule our children should learn from us is this: "Never joke about or speak slightingly of anything which is really precious or sacred to anybody else.

My bulletins, "The Young Child And His Religion" and "Graces And Prayers For Children," may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Expanded Educational Plan Proposed To Lutheran Group

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—An expanded educational program for Lutheran students has been proposed to the United Lutheran Church in America at the ULCA's 21st biennial convention here.

The recommendation came Wednesday night from the ULCA's board of higher education.

The board proposed that the convention approve spending $300,000 toward the cost of building a two - million-dollar Lutheran college at Thousand Oaks, Calif., near Los Angeles.

The board also asked $75,000 to produce a 30-minute motion picture to explain the duties of Lutheran pastors and the church's requirements for a greater number of pastors.

It also asked money to carry out an expanded program of Christian vocational guidance and recruitment.

This request stemmed from a survey this year which disclosed that ULCA seminaries, colleges and training schools "have not and cannot in the foreseeable future produce an adequate supply of ordained and lay leadership required by . . . the church."

The board said the survey indicated that 454 pastors are needed, but only 219 are potentially available.

The board's report mentioned that the ULCA's 14 colleges and 10 seminaries now have a total enrollment of 16,128, an increase of 6½ per cent over that of last year.

How Can I? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I clean greasy woodwork?

A. Try cleaning it with a cloth dipped in turpentine. Follow this by wiping with a cloth dipped in water, to which a little kerosene has been added.

Q. How can I test jelly to detremine when the jelly point has been reached?

A. One method is to put a little jelly on a cold dish and draw a line through it with the point of a spoon. If the jelly does not run together, the point has been reached.

Q. How can I soften the lather in which flannel garments are to be washed?

A. By adding one or two tablespoons of glycerine to a small tub of water.

On a recent quiz program broadcast in Germany, one question was: "If the Rhine consisted of beer instead of water, how many glassfuls would it hold?" The answer accepted was 4,000 billion pints.

Council Presents Safety Awards To O'Neill, 4 Others

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Safety Council has presented safety awards to Gov. C. William O'Neill and four other Ohioans for their contributions toward saving lives during the year.

Gov. O'Neill was cited for directing the state's highway edge-lining program. Traffic engineers credit this practice of lining the edge of highways with a white line with helping to reduce the state's traffic toll.

Other award winners were:

Paul Koch and Peter Dubois of Sandusky for saving the lives of two persons who fell through the ice while skating on Sandusky Bay last Jan. 6.

Ashley F. Ward of Cincinnati, who devised a portable test lane for bicycles which is now used by the city of Cincinnati.

Paul W. Bush, former Mansfield mayor and now a councilman of that city, for his sponsorship of "Safety Town" a training program for children in traffic safety.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Psychology Helps Curb Temptation

Songstress Jane Pickens, who has a mind of her own, cured the dessert habit in a unique manner. She found from experience that the more sweets she ate, the more she wanted to eat sweets and figured it was no way to win.

Ida Jean Kain

So, applying psychology, she looked upon assorted sweets as furnished "cheap calories." Nutrition-wise, such desserts are not good bargains in calories since they furnish a plethora of calories but do not contribute protective, keeping - young nutrients. Jane decided that, at mealtime, protein is a girl's best friend.

Sweets create an appetite for more sweets. It's a physiological process. Quickly absorbably sugar rapidly forces the blood - sugar level high, which in turn stimulates the secretion of insulin.

IN SUCH A situation, the pancreas pours forth more insulin than is needed for the burning of the available sugar. Since sugar is quickly burned, the blood - sugar level falls rapidly and hunger sets in again.

Low blood sugar is believed to be responsible in many cases for recurrent hunger pangs. The all-gone feeling which comes too soon after a poorly balanced meal that is top-heavy in sweets is evidence of low blood sugar. The solution is twofold: a better balanced meal including stick - to - the-ribs protein; and less sweets.

Now let's see what the dieter is up against. Calories must be cut in order for nature to draw on stored fuel but, at the same time, specific amounts of the repair nutrients are essential to make good the wear and tear process.

If the diet is to take care of wear and tear from the nutrition standpoint, the protective foods are required in normal amounts. The nutrients furnished in the protective foods add up to approximately 900 calories daily.

Reducing calories limited to 1,000 or 1,100 leave little leeway for high calorie sweets.

When you cut sweets out of the diet, you really miss them at first. Here is the reason: Nature does not adjust immediately to the change. That is, the mechanism which the body has set up to handle the accustomed sweets remains in force, for a time.

In the initial stage when you feel a definite hankering for sweets you may be convinced that you will always crave sweets. You won't.

IN ONE WEEK you can diminish the powerful stimulus to insulin secretion that is creating the craving for sweets. Try this experiment — turn down seven desserts on that many consecutive days.

Dieters who stay with the low calorie fare past the craving stage report triumphantly that they no longer feel compelled to eat high calorie sweets. It is a wonderful feeling to be able to take dessert or leave it alone.

Send a long, stamped, self - addressed envelope for "Hunger Control Diet." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests can not be answered.

Mixologists Saved Plenty Of Headaches

BOSTON (AP) — This sign behind the bar of a local tavern saves the mixologists a lot of headaches:

"YOU THINK YOU'VE GOT TROUBLES?"

"So far, today, we've had 20 requests for one on the house; eight requests to step outside; seven complaints that the beer is all foam; five hints that we water the liquor; nine spilled drinks; two fires in the kitchen; 200 glasses to wash, five times each; three angry wives looking for their husbands; 17 marriages to patch up; 10 offers of advice on our night life, and three requests for same; 100 chances to laugh, all at the same joke; 18 salesmen to discourage and a couple of saleswomen and 18 phone calls for Henry.

Ohio Republicans To Hear Nixon In Keynote Address

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon will keynote the Republican State Convention here today. His 9:30 p.m., DST, address will be televised.

The day-long convention program gets underway at 8:30 a.m. with a breakfast for legislative candidates.

The remainder of the morning will be devoted to the adoption of a state party platform. Sen. C. Stanley Mechem of Athens, chairman of the platform committee, indicated it probably would contain a strong plank against labor racketeering and a neutral statement on the controversial proposal to regulate labor contracts.

U. S. Sen. John W. Bricker, Gov. C. William O'Neill and U. S. Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois will address a Republican Federated Women's luncheon.

Vice President Nixon is scheduled to arrive at Port Columbus Airport from Philadelphia, Pa., shortly before noon. Dirksen will arrive earlier.

The convention windup begins at the RKO Palace Theater at 7 p.m. and will be broadcast over television between 8 and 9 p.m.

To Present Degrees

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP)—Twenty honorary doctorate degrees will be awarded at Oberlin College's 125th anniversary convocation Oct. 18. The convocation will acknowledge public support of higher education by industry, organizations and individuals. Speakers include Dr. Henry T. Heald, Ford Foundation president; Frank W. Abrams, retired board chairman of Standard Oil of N. J., and John W. Gardner, president of Carnegie Corp. of N. Y.

Jet Pilot Short Of Space Goal In Balloon Bid

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP) — The Air Force's third Man High balloon flight to the stratosphere was at an end today, about 12 hours short of its goal.

The balloon was returned to earth, an Air Force announcement said, because "capsule heat and humidity rose to an extreme degree and could not be lessened," and to prevent the pilot from developing heat prosptration.

Lt. Clifton McClure, 25-year-old jet pilot who turned to ballooning in order to help man try to find a way into space, was back on the ground, disappointed but none the worse for wear.

McClure's aim, when the three million cubic foot balloon and its 9x3-foot sealed metal cockpit capsule left the ground early Wednesday, was to rise to 100,000 feet—Roughly 20 miles—and stay there for a 24-hour day-night cycle.

While he was up there, he was to act as the eyes and hands of a panel of scientists on the ground. Like a remotely controlled relay, he was to pass to them the information they sought from the myriad of instruments which jammed him in the cockpit.

What the Air Force plans in the way of Man High tests now is all up in the air. An officers said it is "certainly too early to say."

Neither Side Recognizes Other

Warsaw Parley Complex

By WARREN ROGERS JR.
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — For a couple of hours about twice a week two highly skilled diplomats meet in an ornate, tan palace in Warsaw to talk about the same things over and over.

One is a gangling, bespectacled, quietly humorous American called Jacob D. Beam. The other is a short, chunky, Communist Chinese named Wang Ping-nan. They are their countries' ambassadors to Warsaw.

Rarely in the complex history of diplomacy has been there such a thing as these talks. Neither side officially recognizes the existence of the other, yet here they are sitting down to talk over the tensions of which this mutual diplomatic snub is a symptom.

The contact, the only official one between the United States and Red China, sprouted without design, a mushroom growing in the back alley of the cold war. But, remembering perhaps that penicillin comes from fungus, the whole world looks to the Warsaw talks with hope of good things to come.

That hope quickened this week with Red China's seven-day suspension of firing at Nationalist-held islands off the China coast. For the first time since their first meeting Sept. 15, Beam and Wang have something to talk about beside the diametric and adamant basic positions of their governments.

When they meet for the sixth time Friday, Beam and Wang can explore the possibility of making the cease-fire permanent and dependable. The United States has said worthwhile consequences, possibly a thinning out of Nationalist military strength in the coastal islands, would ensure from that.

At any rate, Beam and Wang have something to sink their negotiating teeth into.

The Warsaw talks have their roots in the Geneva talks between Wang and Alexis Johnson, Beam's predecessor as U.S. envoy to Warsaw. These continued from May 1955 to December 1957.

At Geneva, Johnson and Wang started out with a specific purpose—to see about freeing more than 40 Americans being detained in Red China. Despite a written pledge in September 1955 to speed freedom for all the Americans, the Red Chinese still hold four U.S. citizens in China. Johnson never did succeed in his second objective, to get Red China to swear off the use of force in the Formosa Strait.

The Warsaw talks began with a general goal, pursuit of ways of "safeguarding the peace in the Far East." Beam wanted a dependable cease-fire. Wang said the guns would stop only after the Nationalists evacuated the offshore islands. Red China's temporary cease-fire may have broken the stalemate.

Now the negotiators have a special task, no less taxing on their patience and negotiating skill, but narrowed at least to the point where it can be put on the bargaining table.

Messages Heard By World

Pope Spoke Out Often On Wide Variety Of Topics

By FRANK BRUTTO

VATICAN CITY (AP)—No pope ever before spoke out so frequently and on so many subjects as did Pius XII.

None before him had the facilities that were afforded to him by science. He frequently turned to radio and, in later years, television to reach distant countries. Some of his major speeches, for example his annual Christmas messages that emphasized the subject of peace, were broadcast in as many as 26 languages.

Some of his words on various subjects included:

COEXISTENCE—"Either it (coexistence) will raise itself to a coexistence in the fear of God, and thence to a truly peaceful living together, inspired and protected by the divine moral order, or else it will shrivel more into a frozen paralysis of international life, the grave dangers of which are even now foreseeable." (Christmas 1954).

ANTICOMMUNISM—"We again warn Christians of the industrial age . . . against being satisfied with an anticommunism founded on the slogan and the defense of a liberty which is devoid of content. Rather we urge them to build up a society in which man's security rests on the moral order." (Christmas 1954).

NUCLEAR ENERGY—"The use of this enormous energy for peaceful purposes is the object of careful and continuous investigation to which is given our blessing together with the approval and the congratulations of every honorable individual and of all civilized peoples." (Easter 1956).

COMMUNISM — "We reject communism as a social system by virtue of Christ's doctrine, and we have a particular obligation to proclaim the fundamental principles of the natural law. For the same reason we also reject the opinion that the Christian ought today to see communism as a phenomenon or a stage in the passage of history, one of the necessary 'moments' as it were of its evolution, and, consequently, to accept it as if decreed by Divine Providence." (Christmas 1956).

COLONIALISM—"Let not those peoples be denied a fair and progressive political freedom and hindered in its pursuit. . . . On the other hand, Western peoples, especially those of Europe, should not, in the face of such problems, remain passive, in futile regret over the past or in mutual organizations to defend your rights — while remaining aware of your duties—and to arrive at an improvement in your conditions of life. You are acting fully in conformity with the church's social teaching when, by all means morally with the church's social teaching when, by all means morally permissible, you vindicate your just rights." (Speech to Italian workers June 26, 1955).

NATURAL CHILDBIRTH—(So-called natural, painless childbirth in which no artificial means is used, but the mother's natural forces are called into action): "Is this method morally irreproachable: The answer, which must take into account the object, end and motive of the method, is enunciated briefly: 'Considered in itself, it contains nothing that can be criticized from the moral point of view.'" (Address to doctors Jan. 8, 1956).

ARTIFICIAL INSEMINATION—The Pope said the so-called 'test-tube' process must "be rejected as immoral and absolutely illicit." (Address to World Congress on Fertility and Sterility, May 19, 1956).

PEACE—"Nothing is lost with peace. Everything may be with war. Let man return to understanding. Let negotiations begin." (Radio address Aug. 24, 1939 before outbreak of World War II).

CAPITAL AND LABOR — "The opinion, unhappily too widespread, that between them there is an irreducible opposition to divergent interests is erroneous and sad in its consequences." (To Italian Catholic employers, May 7, 1949).

COLOR BAR AND RACISM — "One knows too well, alas, to what excesses racial pride and racial hate can lead. The church is forever opposed with energy to (these excesses) whether they consist of attempts at genocide, or practices inspired by what is called the 'color bar.'" (Address to an International Congress on Blood Transfusion, Sept. 10, 1958).

POLITICS — Prayer the Pope composed for Catholic parliamentarians and politicians says: "May we never lack in loyalty to our people, faith in the principals we profess and elevation of the spirit above corruption and evil interest." (Prayer published Jan. 28, 1958;.

Odds Favoring Harriman

New York Governor Race Gives Signs Of Being Close

By JAMES DEVLIN

NEW YORK (AP) — The race between two civic-minded multimillionaires for the New York governorship gives some signs of being closer than expected. The odds presently favor Gov. Averell Harriman's re-election bid.

Nelson A. Rockefeller, a new face before the voters, has been waging a spirited, personable, nonstop campaign that has encouraged Republicans.

They think Democrat Harriman is no longer the shoo-in he appeared to be before the August nominating conventions.

Manhattan bookies rate Harriman at this point as a 9-5 favorite in the Nov. 4 balloting.

Republican leaders insist that a poll conducted under GOP auspices in September showed Rockefeller and Harriman running even. They report that each polled 40 per cent and 20 per cent were undecided.

Some top Democrats have counseled against complacency or against being lulled into a false sense of security by the Democratic landslide in Maine Sept. 8. One such warning came from Gov. Edmund Muskie, elected senator in that election.

Harriman is taking nothing for granted. He has been visiting every section of the state to speak and shake hands with the same fervor he did in 1954.

That year he won the governorship over Republican Sen. Irving M. Ives by the squeaky margin of 11,000 votes of more than five million cast.

Since then he has had ample opportunity to build his political strength.

He was able to build the Democratic organization through patronage after 12 years of Republican state administration under Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

Meanwhile, came what Harriman calls "The Eisenhower recession," the Sherman Adams case, some uneasiness over Eisenhower's Quemoy policy, and the Democratic triumph in Maine.

All added up to give the Democrats confidence that this is their year.

But New York Republicans contend the New York campaign will hinge on state issues—not Quemoy or Adams, although Rep. Kenneth B. Keating, their candidate for the Senate, was one of the GOP office seekers who demanded that Adams resign.

Although Rockefeller doesn't mention it, Republicans have been stressing quietly the difference in the candidates' ages.

Republican campaign literature notes that Rockefeller is 50 and that Harriman "becomes 67 on Nov. 15."

Rockefeller's activity in philanthropic work for minority groups long before his name cropped up as a possibility for governor may help him in strongly Democratic New York City.

He has contributed to low-cost housing in Puerto Rico and Israel and has participated in causes for Negro advancement.

Rockefeller himself appears increasingly confident.

Grade School Testing Under Way In County

LISBON — Administering of the new Metropolitan Achievement Tests to all seventh, eighth and ninth graders in Columbiana County school systems will be completed next week, according to Lorin Ruff, elementary supervisor.

The system was selected to aid in standardization of the metropolitan tests to aid teachers in rating students in a variety of fields —work knowledge, spelling, grammar, arithmetic, geography and government.

Each student is first given the Pintner test, which determines his intelligence quotient. Results in the Pintner test will be used as a basis to establish forms in the metropolitan phase.

Testing in the 11 county schools which have such grades began Oct. 1 under the supervision of Ruff school supervisor. The Metropolitan test covers 32 pages and takes 4½ hours, Ruff said.

The bids are to be submitted only on bid proposal forms available at the Division Highway Office, Box 351, New Philadelphia, Ohio or at the address listed below and are to be addressed "Charles M. Noble, Director of Highways, Attention: Walter G. Smith, Jr., Right of Way Acquisition Engineer, 139 East Gay St., Columbus 15, Ohio." The following notation must appear on the envelope, Columbiana County, Ohio.
Each bidder must file with the bid for any item which includes all buildings shown thereunder, a certified check in the amount of said bid, payable to the Treasurer of State. In the event bids are made on more than one item, a separate bid proposal and certified check in the amount of the bid must accompany each bid. Said check will be returned to the bidder in the event the bid is not accepted. The Director of Highways reserves the right to reject any or all bids. The acceptance of a bid and notification thereof to the successful bidder, will require a performance bond to be provided for each item within ten (10) days after such notification of award, evidenced by a certified check for $500.00 or a bond for $1000.00, to be held in escrow, to insure the performance of the removal operations set forth below.
The acceptance of a bid and award made thereon shall constitute a contract by and between the successful bidder and the Director of Highways: said contract incorporating all the terms, provisions and conditions of this notice and in said bid proposal.
Item No. 2, Parcel No. 17 (Toot) 1 story frame residence. Item No. 2, is located 1.3 mile south of the south corporation line of Lisbon on the east side of the road.
Inspection of the various items may be made upon application to the Division Right of Way Engineer's Office in New Philadelphia, Ohio
Possession of the various items, as described above will be given to the successful bidder after satisfactory bond is provided by such bidder, and possession is given by the State of Ohio, (see Item 1 of bid proposal). Removal of the structure in the item from highway right of way must be completed not later than 30 days after possession is granted for the item.
Upon award of a bid, and notification thereof and after possession is granted, any loss or damage to the structure, or structures, by fire, windstorm or other casualty, shall be at the risk of the successful bidder.
The removal of the structure or structures described above shall include the clean up of all resulting materials and debris from the basements, cisterns and surrounding ground. All removals shall be to the ground level. In the event there are any holes remaining the successful bidder shall construct temporary barricades around such holes.
Permits must be secured from the proper public authority before removal work may be started. The successful bidder must determine whether all utilities have been properly disconnected.
Each successful bidder shall assume all responsibility for any damage that may occur to adjacent properties as a result of his removal operations.
If razing or approved removal is not completed by said date, or if such clean up and removal of resulting debris is not completed to the satisfaction of the Director of Highways, or if the performance check or bond is not furnished within the time allotted, the bidder shall forfeit all remittances previously advanced as well as all right title and interest in said buildings, at the option of the Director of Highways; and the Director may without notice destroy or otherwise dispose of said structures and satisfy any additional cost in connection therewith, out of the escrow fund previously provided.
It shall be the responsibility of each bidder to inspect and examine for himself, as to the size and condition of each structure, all appurtenances thereto and the conditions affecting the removal thereof. The above descriptions are intended to be used for identification purposes only and are not to be construed as a warranty of any kind.

Time For Oldsters To Strike Back

Young Intellectuals Snobs

By SAUL PETT

NEW YORK (AP)—I think it's time we dull old people struck back at the young intellectual.

I have in mind a particular kind of young intellectual. I visualize him lying around his room at college, for which his father was gauche enough to borrow the money. I see this young man lying there on his bed, smug, vague, contemptuous.

He wears sandals, khaki pants, and a white T-shirt. His room is studied disorder. A vigil light flickering under the Picasso print. Esoteric jazz records stacked in the corner. Elsewhere books on Zen Buddhism, existentialism. On the wall, an African mask. On the floor, no chairs, just Japanese straw mats.

This is the young rebel who thinks he is history's first rebel. He has no idea what he's for, but he's against everything positive—like a decision about what he will do in life. In his mind, anyone over 30, who is married, who had kids and a job and a house and a routine is, at best, pitiful; at worst, a soullness, unimaginative clod.

Meet this young man, and he can throw you easily, if you happen to be over 30 and have a family and work for a living. He will whistle jazz tunes you never heard of, quote Kafka, Camus, Sarte and other authors you're vague about, he will order a vodka martini as if he invented it, with a brand you never heard of. In every way, he will make you feel drab, dull, old, old-fashioned, a creature of habit, conformity and fear.

This is the kind of young snob I think we should clobber. Don't let him intimidate you. Let's hit him where it hurts. Let him know he is anything but original. Let him know you were once a rebel, too, until you had to start thinking and living.

Let him know that life seldom presents such easy black and white choices. Suggest to him that he, too, when he wriggles loose from the mire of his self-centeredness, may fall in love and want to get married and even may want to support the girl.

Let him know he's distinctly an amateur at life so far. Tell him to withhold his cracks, his disdain, his condescension until a later time. Come back, little rebel, when you've been a father and tried to find the wisdom to answer your son's questions.

Come back, little rebel, when you've had to deal with a waiting room full of frightened patients. Come back, little rebel, when you have stayed up all night working on a brief. Come back, little rebel, when you've faced the stark terror of a deadline or searched your soul for the words to fire a man from his job.

Come back, little rebel, and make your cracks when you're dry behind the ears, when you're a professional. No one is so brave as the amateur because no one is so safe.

Much To Learn In Foreign Field, Ohio PTA Told

CINCINNATI (AP)—The United States has much to learn in the field of foreign relations, Ohio Supreme Court Judge James Garfield Stewart told members of the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers at the concluding session of their annual convention here Wednesday night.

Judge Stewart, who in recent years has made five trips around the world, picked the convention's theme "Are We Ready for Tomorrow?" as the subject of his address—and concluded that "we are not."

"We are only in the primary grade," he observed, in recounting that since World War II "we have distributed 70 billion dollars in foreign aid while looking down our long noses at the very people we assist, to gain not good will, but emnity and mistrust."

It is not enough to deal with nations abroad only at a diplomatic level, Judge Stewart declared. "We should seek to know and understand the people themselves, the way they live, and work, and their hopes and aspirations."

REAL THING. Firemen staged a simulated run Wednesday night as part of Fire Prevention Week but it was the real thing this morning when a fire broke out at the home of Mrs. Georgia Bachus, 418 Gardendale Ave. Fireman Joe Yager is checking an electrical outlet, the apparent source of the blaze which caused considerable damage.

Damage Seen Extensive For Fire At Home

Electrical Outlet Short Blamed For Blaze In Gardendale

The city's observance of Fire Prevention Week was marred today by a fire, apparently started from a short circuit in an electrical outlet, that swept through a Gardendale home causing extensive damage.

The walls, roof, siding and joists in the 1½-story residence of Mrs. Georgia Bachus, 418 Gardendale Ave., were burned in the blaze which broke out about 7:30 a. m.

Firemen said the fire was traced to the electrical outlet box at the base of the floor in the kitchen. An extension cord hooked into the box had been burned off, they said.

The fire burned up through the kitchen wall into the attic. Some of the ceiling and roof joists were burned through, firemen said, and holes had to be chopped in the front of the house to enable the firefighters to reach the blaze.

Mrs. Bachus told firemen she was awakened by noise, apparently the crackling of the flames, and thought her daughter had returned home. Her son and daughter had left two hours earlier for work.

She said she got up and found the kitchen ablaze and tried to throw water on the fire and then called the department.

There was no estimate of the loss.

Youth Escapes Injury In Bicycle-Auto Crash

Albert Clutter, 15, of 2136 Crawford Ave. escaped injury in a collision between his bicycle and an auto Wednesday at 7:24 p. m. on Pennsylvania Ave. at Central Ave., police said.

The bicycle was involved in a collision with a 1953 sedan driven by Richard D. Stafford, 54, of 436 Washington St., Newell, police said. The boy resides at the Crawford Ave. address with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. William White.

A collision on E. 3rd St. 75 feet east of Market St. Wednesday at 5:13 p. m. caused slight damage to a 1958 model panel truck driven by George Model, 46, of 1703 Holliday St., police said. The truck, halted for a traffic signal, was hit from the rear by a 1954 sedan driven by Harold W. Bryan, 39, of Substation, officers said. Bryan said his car drifted forward when he bent to brush away cigarette ashes that fell on his sleeve.

Military Chiefs Run Pakistan Government

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — A special government of civil servants ran Pakistan today under military chiefs and martial law regulations that extended the death penalty to numerous offenses.

President Iskander Mirza named the administrators Wednesday night, 24 hours after he abolished the government and annulled the constitution to prepare for a new constitution.

Final Suspect Gives Self Up In Theft Case

The last of three men charged with the $500 strongarm robbery of a Chester man July 18 surrendered himself to East Liverpool police this morning.

He is Bobby Higgins of Shadyside Ave., who probably will be arraigned this afternoon in Municipal Court in connection with the robbery of Clyde Finley of Box 81, Chester. He is scheduled for police questioning before the hearing.

Two others accused of participation in the robbery were held for the Grand Jury earlier this week, both under $500 bonds. Ray Junior Hess of Kountz Ave. pleaded guilty Monday. William Drumm Jr. of Chester R. D. was bound over after a lengthy preliminary hearing Tuesday. He pleaded not guilty.

At first, Higgins was believed living with some relatives in western Beaver County, but officers learned last night he had been seen in Wellsville. The widespread search through Wellsville for him last night might have prompted the suspect to surrender himself, Chief Americo Radeschi said.

Finley said he rode to a dirt track auto speedway near Glenmoor with Hess, Drumm and Higgins. He said two of the men then robbed him of the $500, which he had brought to East Liverpool, intending to buy a used car.

125 More Ask Special Ballot

Board Gets Requests From Over World

The Columbiana County Election Board issued about 125 applications for absentee ballots for the Nov. 4 general election within the last 24 hours, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said today.

Requests have come from all over the world, including France England and the Pacific area, O'Hanlon said. Requests for ballots to be mailed to foreign countries have come from both civilians and service personnel and their dependents, he explained.

About 100 of the applications were forwarded Wednesday and another 25 went out in the first mail this morning, O'Hanlon said. The board already has issued 56 civilian absentee and disabled voters' ballots and another 64 under the Ohio "soldier voting law" for service personnel.

The deadline for issuance of the civilian ballots is Oct. 30 at 4 p. m. To be counted at the polls Nov. 4, they must be back at the board's office by noon Friday, Oct. 31. Soldiers ballots may be issued until noon Saturday, Nov. 1, and the service personnel may return the ballots or vote them in person at the board's office as late as noon on election day.

Trial Delayed In City Police Burglary Case

Hearing To Be Held Friday In Move To Drop 7 Indictments

The scheduled start of a burglary trial Monday for two former policemen and an ex-special officer has been postponed to enable Judge Raymond S. Buzzard to consider arguments in a move to dismiss seven police burglary indictments to be heard Friday.

County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw last month scheduled trial Monday for Ira Cunningham and Robert Carroll, former officers, and Jerome Raimond, onetime special officer, for the 1952 burglary of the Burbick Hardware Store.

The scheduling of the trials came on the heels of a new move by the three defendants and Louis Stuttler, another former officer, to quash the seven indictments handed down in 1956 following a police investigation.

Judge Buzzard is slated to hear arguments for the motion to dismiss the indictments tomorrow morning at Lisbon, and Wednesday he requested the trial slated Monday be postponed to allow him time to study the motions further.

Attorneys for the four defendants claim they were not brought to trial in the allotted three court terms following the indictments.

A hearing is scheduled before the 7th District Court of Appeals Oct. 22 on an appeal by Dallas Bishop, former special officer, of his May conviction of entering the Smith & Phillips Co. store in 1952.

Bishop at one time pleaded guilty to two indictments, but later changed his plea. Robert McBane, ex-officer pleaded guilty to eight of the charges, and has served as a state witness. Another officer was acquitted.

Highlandtown School Entered By Thieves

About $4.50 in change and $20 worth of candy was stolen by burglars at the Highlandtown School at Route 39 between Wellsville and Salineville sometime Wednesday night or early today, according to Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan.

Deputies said entry was gained by breaking a window in outside cafeteria door and reaching in and opening the lock. The intruders entered Principal Robert Carter's office, and ransacked the utility cabinet containing the candy.

The candy belongs to the Parent - Teacher Association which sells it at meetings and to pupils during the school week.

O'Neill Says Pope's Death 'Tragic Loss'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. C. William O'Neill said today the death of Pope Pius XII is a "tragic loss" to the free world.

In a statement issued through his press secretary, the governor said:

"The entire free world must certainly lament the tragic loss of Pope Pius XII who spent his entire life in fostering peace for all men.

Missing Boy Still Feared River Victim

Dragging Continues Off Wellsville For Westgate Student, 14

Dragging operations continued today in the Ohio River along the Wellsville shore for a 14-year-old East Liverpool boy believed to have drowned when he fell from a makeshift raft about noon Wednesday.

Missing is David Casto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Casto of Lincoln Ave., student at Westgate School.

Authorities said David and four other youngsters, including his two brothers, were playing hookey from school. They walked toward Wellsville and wandered down to the river shore where they found the raft made of an old screen door with boards nailed crosswise.

The other boys, Allen Casto, 9, Gary Casto, 11, William Thomas, 14, and Charles Jones, 14, ran for help when David fell from the raft.

They told authorities David pushed the raft from shore. He jumped into the river to swim ashore after the raft tipped but couldn't make it. He then grabbed the raft and starting drifting down stream.

When the boys returned David's jacket was on the raft, but he had vanished.

Dragging operations started immediately. Police, firemen and members of the Wellsville Boat Club used pleasure craft. Hooks were sent to Wellsville by the East Liverpool fire department. The men quit the search about 7:30 when darkness interfered.

About four boats were back at the scene today. A crowd gathered along the bank at 3rd St. and Riverside Ave. to watch the search. The boy's parents kept vigil from a car.

Workers from Dam 8 at Newell are assisting in the dragging. Dam 9 at New Cumberland has been alerted to watch for a body.

Area Man Due Holdup Trial

Jefferson Will Try Wellsville Resident

Trial has been set for Oct. 22 in Jefferson County Common Pleas Court at Steubenville for a Wellsville man charged with armed robbery. Dates also have been set for the start of trials for other district men indicted by the September Grand Jury.

David Buckel is charged with the holdup July 8 of the P. & Z. Truck Stop near Port Homer. Buckel, 27, was arrested about a week later and identified by Mrs. Doris Jean Suttle, a waitress. His companion in the robbery never was caught.

Judge Arthur L. Hooper will hear the case. Ray Hooper of Hammondsville has, pleaded guilty to breaking and entering and is being held in Jefferson County Jail at Steubenville pending testimony and a plea for mitigation before sentencing.

Howell Davis of Empire will receive a trial Tuesday on two counts of assault and battery.

Clarence (William) Martin of Empire will go to trial Oct. 22 on charges of exhibiting gambling devices and selling tickets for lottery. A Knox Township constable, he is charged with having the gambling devices in his service station.

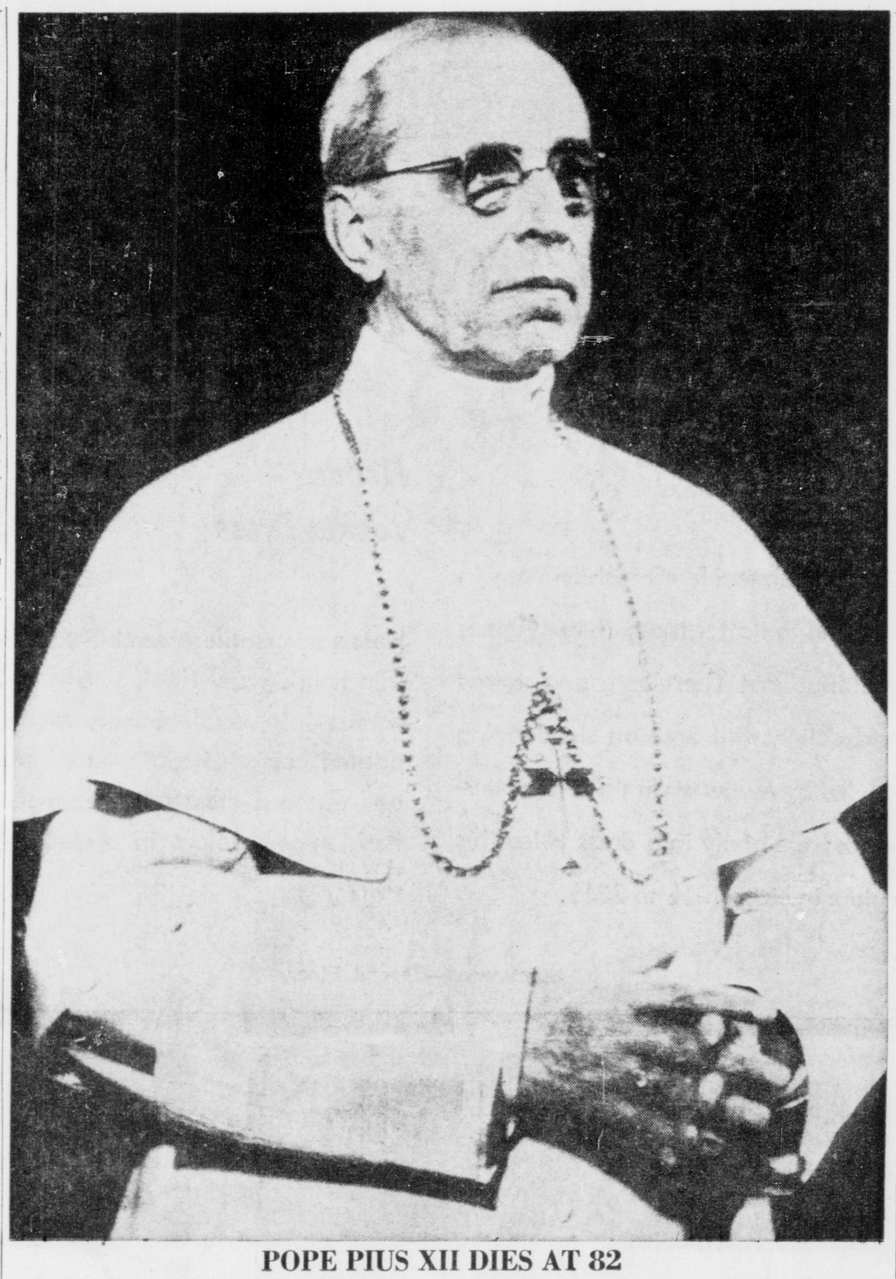
Three defendants, Hubert (Sonny) Kline, 26, of East Liverpool, Howard Russell, 35, of Salineville R. D. 3 and Thurman Allgood of Irondale, will be tried jointly for breaking and entering. They were cited in the burglary of the Anthony Abrutz Mine on Brush Creek.

4 Lines On Pope Death

MOSCOW (AP) — A four-line dispatch today from Rome by the official Soviet news agency Tass was the first announcement in the Sovet Union of the death of Pope Pius XII.

To Lie In State At Vatican

Pope To Return In Death To Native Rome Friday



POPE PIUS XII DIES AT 82

Nine Days Of Mourning Rites Begin

Cardinals Planning Funeral, Election Of His Successor

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP)—Pope Pius XII will return in death Friday to his native Rome, to lie in state at the Vatican and be buried in St. Peter's basilica.

His death early today, though anticipated for hours, sent a wave of shock around the world and brought widespread expressions of tribute from political and church leaders outside the Iron Curtain.

He was 82 and had served 19 years as the supreme leader of the Roman Catholic Church.

He will go back to that ancient city, borne by a motorcade along the Appian Way.

Before that, the church arranged a three-hour period for the body to lie in state today in the Hall of the Swiss in the Summer Palace here, where he was stricken and died.

This was the first stage in elaborate mourning rites lasting nine days. A week or so later the College of Cardinals will meet in secret to name a successor to a Pope who gave the church one of its most brilliant leaderships.

Benedetto Cardinal Aloisi-Masella was elected by the cardinals today as papal chamberlain to administer affairs of the church until a new pontiff is chosen.

Pius suffered a stroke Monday and another Wednesday.

For hours he hovered in death's agony. Then, while millions around the world prayed, he died at 3:52 a.m. (10:52 p.m., DST, Wednesday) in the papal summer residence in this hill town 18 miles south of Rome.

Eugenio Pacelli, the 261st pope, was the leader of the world's 500 million Catholics in one of the most burdensome times in the 2,000-year history of the church.

He wanted to be known as the "Pope of Peace" but when he was elected March 2, 1939, the

Expressions Of Sorrow, Praise

President, U.S. Leaders Pay Tribute To Late Pope

By The Associated Press

"His was a full life of devotion to God and service to his fellow men."

These words by President Eisenhower summed up tributes to the late Pope Pius XII by American leaders in government, religion and other fields.

News of the pontiff's death today brought an outpouring of statements expressing sorrow and lauding the late Pope as a "foe of tyranny . . . a man of profound vision . . . one of the foremost champions of human dignity, freedom and peace."

Joining Roman Catholics in mourning the Pope's death were spokesmen for Protestant and Jewish groups.

The National Catholic Welfare Conference noted that no other pope in history has had as many ties with the United States as Pope Pius XII. The conference recalled, among other things, that he was the first man to become pope who had ever visited the United States. This was in 1936, three years before he became head of the Roman Catholic Church. Also recalled were the pontiff's many audiences with Americans who visited the Vatican.

Eisenhower, informed of the Pope's death at Castel Gandolfo in Italy, said that "with men of good will everywhere, I mourn his passing."

The President said this of the Pope: "An informed and articulate foe of tyranny, he was a sympathetic friend and benefactor to those who were oppressed, and his helping hand was always quick to aid the unfortunate victims of war.

"Without fear or favor, he consistently championed the cause of a just peace among the nations of the earth. A man of profound vision, he kept pace with a rapidly changing universe, yet never lost sight of mankind's eternal destiny."

Vice President Nixon said he had never met a leader in any part of the world "who had a keener and broader understanding of the great issues of our time than he had." Nixon added that "the wisdom of his counsel will guide statesmen for years to come."

Lebanon Chief Is Forced Out After 14 Days

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Rising opposition from supporters of former President Camille Chamoun reportedly has forced the resignation of Premier Rashid Karami after only 14 days in office.

President Fuad Chehab was reported considering appointing a military government. Chehab headed the army until he became president in September.

Karami, a 37-year-old Sunni Moslem, was a leader of the armed rebellion last summer against Chamoun. After Karami became premier, the Christian Phalange, a militant party supporting Chamoun, launched strikes and barricades. Wednesday it became apparent Karami could not win a confidence vote in Parliament because of opposition from Chamoun supporters.

Stymied By Court Orders

School Segregation Heads Make Pleas To Individuals

By The Associated Press

School segregation leaders, stymied by federal court orders in Virginia and Arkansas, appealed to individuals today for support in operating private all-white schools.

One thing is clear: Any private school system will have to be operated without any kind of state support.

Not so clear is whether the federal government will help rebuild schools such as the bomb-ravaged high school in racially troubled Clinton, Tenn.

Virginia's plan for operating private white schools with public teachers was tossed out the window Wednesday by Federal Judge John Paul in Harrisonburg. He said the practice violates the U. S. Supreme Court's integration ruling.

Paul declined to rule an NAACP request to reopen Warren County High School and two Charlottesville schools because the state law which closed them is being tested in the Virginia Supreme Court.

After hearing the court order on publicly paid teachers, Atty. John S. Battle Jr. of Charlottesville indicated he would seek money from private sources to pay teachers and thus remove them from the court's prohibition. He said the money probably could be raised by tuition charges. "This is our only chance," he said.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas said he would start a nationwide appeal for contributions to help operate private, segregated schools. A federal judge has ruled in Arkansas that private classes cannot be held in public school buildings.

Walkout Idles 850 At Pottery

Conference Planned On Knowles Dispute

All 850 employes of the Edwin M. Knowles China Co. were idled today in what the company termed an "unauthorized, wildcat" walkout.

Pickets were thrown around the plant at the 11 p. m. shift change Wednesday and again at 7 this morning. Fellow members of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters refused to cross the lines, idling the plant's production.

A company spokesman said shortly before noon the firm had been unable to learn the exact cause of the dispute, which apparently started with kilnhands. However, management was scheduled to meet this afternoon at 1:30 with E. L. Wheatley, president, and other IBOP officials in an attempt to work out a settlement.

Reports circulating among the Knowles employes said the dispute centered around a question over the seniority rights of an employe who was discharged and later rehired.

IBOP officials said they have "high hopes" the dispute can be settled in the meeting this afternoon at the U. S. Potters Association offices. The Brotherhood will be represented by its international officers and the plantwide committee from the Knowles firm.

The company said it did not succeed in getting in contact with Wheatley until about 11 a. m., so did not have particulars on the reasons for the walkout.

A check showed the dispute did not affect any other plants on the West Virginia side.

Special meeting tonight Oct. 9. Kilnman Local No. 9. Notice all charged $2 for not attending. By order of Pres.—Ad.
